JAPAN FOR ARMSReport Rebel Leaders Seek Ammunition For Villa
Revolution in Mexico25 Bands of Rebels of 35,000
Men, Opposed by 60,000
Carranza TroopsEL PASO, Tex., July 23.—Francisco Villa and General Felipe Angeles have disbanded their forces until September, and announced that they will go to Japan in an effort to obtain ammunition for the Villa revolution, according to Americans arriving from Chihuahua City.25 BANDS OF REBELS OPERATINGWASHINGTON, July 23.—Twenty-five distinct bands of rebels with a strength of about 35,000 men are operating in Mexico, according to a tabulation published in Mexico City. Opposing them Carranza has a force of about 60,000, which however, is able to control little more than the railway lines with a narrow strip along the Pacific coast from Guaymas to San Blas and the territory around Tampico.Villa and Angeles have 5100 men; Felix Diaz 5100; Manuel Pelaez, 3000, and Gen. Cantu 1200.MEXICAN BANDITS KIDNAP AMERICANWASHINGTON, July 23.—The kidnapping of Lawrence L. Shipley, an American citizen, by Mexican bandits near Fresno, Mex., last Saturday, was reported yesterday to the state department. Shipley is a native of Yerlington, Nev.The department had no other details on this latest attack on an American citizen, but the official announcement of the occurrence said an investigation had been ordered.The report, coming closely after the attack and robbery of a boat load of American sailors near Tampico and the receipt of information yesterday of the robbery of about $10,000 from the Puerto Lobos station of the Atlantic Refining Co., added to the tension in of-
attacks on American citizens and property in the southern republic.TO SIGN TREATIES WITH BULGARIA AND TURKEYWASHINGTON, July 23.—The United States will sign the treaties with Bulgaria and Turkey, it was announced today, at the state department.Although the United States never has been actually at war with Bulgaria and Turkey it will sign the treaties to show its concurrence in the terms imposed upon these allies of Germany and Austria. Like those with the German powers, the treaties change boundary lines and create new nations, some of which, particularly Armenia, probably will ask that the United States act as mandatory for them under the League of Nations covenant.The announcement today was the first that the United States would be a party to the treaties. A dispatch last night from Paris said Premier Veniz-elos of Greece, has cabled President Wilson asking whether the United States would sign. Greece is particularly interested in the disposition of western Thrace, which it desires to take away from Bulgaria. The American delegates at Paris were said to be unwilling to deprive Bulgaria of access to the Aegean sea.NO OBLIGATION

LENINE WANTS PEACE

Bolshevik Delegation Seeks To End War With Ru-

shevik delegation has arrived at Kish-ineff with an offer of peace to the commander of the Rumanian Dniester troops on behalf of Nikolai Lenine, according to a Berlin government wire-

Rumania on condition that Rumania shall prohibit Ukrainian citizens and bands of Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government at Omsk from crossing the Rumanian frontier.An armistice to last eight days has been concluded on the Bessarabian front and the delegation has gone to Rumanian headquarters.BIG FOREST FIRES IN five hundred forestry service men and hundreds of men in the employ of timber protective associations have failed to hold in check serious forest fires which were raging today in northern Idaho and western and central Montana.Four Montana towns, Thompson Falls, St. Regis, Henderson and Malden, were menaced seriously.A serious blaze was spreading over 25,000 acres in the Madison national forest.A fire between Sand Point and Hope, Idaho, had swept over 40 square miles and destroyed millions of feet of pine.DENIAL BY JAPAN ON SHANTUNG SETTLEMENTPARIS, July 23.—The Japanese delegation to the peace conference today issued a denial of assertions that the Shantung settlement in the German peace treaty was in exchange for the withdrawal of the Japanese contention regarding the racial clause in the League of Nations covenant.The announcement today was the first that the United States would be a party to the treaties. A dispatch last night from Paris said Premier Veniz-

"A Jolly Good Fellow"

We all wear chains of habit; we are either the slaves of bad habits that embitter our lives later on, or we are fettered to the habits of good conduct that reward us with health and comfort and with wealth, too, if we have the savings habit. Systematic savings will not only assist you wonderfully in building for the future, but it will put your daily life on a more efficient basis. It will put a check on your extravagances if nothing more. "For he's a jolly good fellow" should be set to slow music and played as a dirge. What we all need is the respect of the world; we can't anyone of us get along without it, and if you save your money you can command respect. National City Bank, Chelsea.We old ones who have "come thrill" have known many "a jolly good fellow"—always the good fellow to others, but far too often careless of his own future, improvident. He learned too late "The Mill will never grind with the Water that has passed."A SAVINGS ACCOUNT started ing at City HallDeclaring that the inclusion of a swimming pool in the proposed memorial auditorium would be impractical and that the cost of its construction in such a building would enable the city to build three pools in various parts of the city, the Lowell Memorial Auditorium commission, through its chairman, John H. Harrington, told a number of representatives of women's organizations of the city yesterday afternoon that the commission favored a swimming pool for the girls and women of the city, but that the auditorium was decidedly not the place to locate it.In support of their petition that a pool with shower baths and other convenient equipment be placed in the basement of the proposed building, representatives of the Community Service.SHOWER BATHS IN LOCAL SCHOOLSRichard Brabcock Walsh, chairman of the school committee, is in absolute accord with the suggestion made by Thomas A. Glaty, principal of the Butler school and supervisor of playgrounds that shower baths should be installed in all local grade schools, but pertinently adds that better in favor of an idea and being able to carry it out are two transversely different things.Chairman Walsh this morning said that he not only favored the installation of complete shower bath equipment, but also a gymnasium in every school, but that such things are outside the pale of even possibility at present.

Scarcity of money constitutes the barrier."The school committee surely wants a gymnasium included in the new high school building," said Mr. Walsh, "but we do not know whether or not we can have it. There is no chance for the inclusion of a gymnasium or shower baths in the addition to the Morey school for we have not sufficient money to even erect the sort of school building we want."The Lowell committee does not feel that gymnasiums or shower baths are luxuries, for more and more the opinion is growing that the development of children physically is just as important as their mental growth. Without proper body care a child is handicapped in intelligent application of the mind, it is said.It is not believed that shower baths would be put to general use in the schools unless a solid system of gymnasium work also was installed.
Playground children in the summer months would use the showers, of course, but during the school year there would be no program of physical drill strenuous enough to warrant the use of an after-bath unless a thorough system of physical education was put into practice.Many middle-western schools in New York and New Jersey have realized the value of physical education, but to date, it has made but slight progress in New England. In New Jersey schools gymnasium work is an active part of the daily schedule and from the opening of school in the morning until dismissal at least one class is using it during every period.At the present time only two Lowell schools have shower baths, the high school and the Eliot. The two at the high school annex are seldom used except during the track season and the two at the Eliot are but makeshift affairs at best and perform but meager service.

Need of ReliefBOSTON, July 23.—Governor Coolidge today recommended to the legislature the appointment of a commission of seven to investigate street railway problems in the state and report at a special session of the legislature in November. The proposal was outlined in a message to the house in which the governor called attention to the disturbed condition of street railway affairs, spoke of the increase in fares which he said had reached a point where they had become "prohibitive," and urged the need of relief for both the railways and the public.OFFICIALS DISAPPEAR FROM CITY HALLToday was outling day at city hall with a dash of the mysterious thrown in for good measure. With few exceptions municipal officials were scarce articles in the granite buildings and persistent rumor had it that Rye beach in some manner or other had sent air currents of attraction to city hall and lured a goodly quota of city fathers.Now and then, here and there, one would hear sibilant comments and intimations to the effect that a certain hotel proprietor at the beach in question was noted for the lobster dinners he served, but of course, nobody came out with a blanket accusation and said that anybody in particular was at Rye beach today, although a mysterious car was seen putting away from Merrimack street early in the morning with a carp of city officials.Mayor Perry D. Thompson was not in his office except very early in the forenoon and the lips of those he left behind needed the power of an "Open Sesame" ejaculation to make them produce information. One was able to gain the very general information that the mayor had "gone for a ride," but when, where, why, how and with whom, were altogether too inquisitive.Commissioner Marchand and John J.
Mullane, the latter a member of the high school building commission, were seen together and at once there circulated a rumor that they had gone inspecting high schools, which, of course, will still be a rumor until the return of the expeditionary force.Commissioner Morse was "out" and Commissioner Murphy hadn't arrived at his office at 12:30 this afternoon.
Commissioner Donnelly was the lone member of the council in his office during the greater part of the forenoon. City Auditor Charles D. Paige was with the alleged outing party and there was a general concession throughout the hall that "perhaps it was a farewell party" for "Charlie."
However, there were left the ever reliable clerks and newspapermen to run the city's affairs for the day and up to the present writing, there have been no disasters.LOWELL GIRLS FORM with lineups, umpires and official scores will be announced later.

Boston Publishers Grant Demands—$45 For Deskmen, $38 For Reporters

BOSTON, July 23.—The Boston Newspaper Publishers' association agreed yesterday to grant the demands of the News Writers union for a minimum wage scale of $45 per week for rewrite men and copy readers, $38 for reporters and staff photographers and $30 for district men. Members of the union who receive more than the minimum wage will be given "proportionate increases." The scale is retroactive to June 1.

Members of the union who have been employed by a daily newspaper for at least three years are entitled to the new wage. Seven Boston newspapers are represented in the Publishers' association.

The above announcement was made by William O'Connor, president of the News Writers union last night. No statement could be obtained from the publishers. It was said, however, that they had agreed to the adoption of a minimum scale, but that the agreement did not involve a recognition of the union.

Ah! I thought there was some one at the door, for the chief's ears are as wide as ever. Sit right down there on that old panther skin by the fire and you'll soon be dry and warm. I'm mighty glad you came to see the chief tonight, for he was just thinking of the long ago when he was a boy—when there was one in the tribe that none of the others seemed to understand. He was just as fine and brave as any of them, but, somehow, he appeared to be different from all of the other boys. He hardly ever joined in the games and sports, and he came to believe that the other fellows didn't like him. He was alone most of the time, and because of that they gave him a nickname. They called him Pagopago. That means One-one in our language—just because he was by himself so much.

One day One-one happened to come along in the woods where the others were playing. They had just found a hornet's nest and were stirring it up by shooting their arrows into it. Those hornets went at One-one furiously. But instead of running away which

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope, Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound, with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

would cause the other fellows to laugh at him, he calmly wrapped his robe around him and walked slowly away, and they didn't laugh. He went away off down the creek where he got a handful of clay, plastered it over the hump the hornets had made on his face and sat down to wait for them to heat; for clay was one of the things which the Medicine Man used to cure stings and snake bites.

The boy was pretty lonesome as he sat there watching an eagle floating around in the sky, and how he did wish that he was a man so that he could wear an eagle feather war bonnet—like the chief's. Suddenly there was a roll of thunder in the west. A hailstorm was coming and it would catch him before he got home. He jumped up and ran into the bush where he hustled around until he found a couple of bushes a little taller than himself and about four feet apart. He took hold of first one bush then the other near their tops, bent them till their tops met. Then he twisted the small branches of the bushes together until they held. With his knife he cut a half a dozen bushes about the size of the others, sharpened the butt ends, stuck them into the ground so that with the other two they formed a circle about four feet across. He bent them over like the other two, one after another and bound all of their tops together. That was the framework of his wickiup.

Working like a beaver he cut small bushes, piled them on the top and around the sides of the frame, spread his robe over it all as far as it would go, tied the corners down to the poles and crawled inside before the hailstones began to beat down. He had seen his mother do that ever since he could remember and, of course, knew just how. But I've often thought that if One-one had lived here and belonged to a troop of Boy Scouts, he wouldn't have been lonesome, and he wouldn't have made a wickiup—except just for fun.

This is how One-one began to build the forest shelter which kept the hailstones off.

BODY RECOVERED

The body of Alexandre Bedard, who drowned in the Partridge canal yesterday afternoon, was recovered last evening by Undertaker Joseph Albert and removed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustin Bedard, 308 Aiken street. Bedard fell into the water while watching some of his companions swim, and not knowing how to swim, he drowned before assistance reached him. Deceased was 17 years of age and is survived by his parents, three brothers, Napoleon, Rosario and Gerard, and three sisters, Marua, Angelina and Blanche.

Nothing feels so refreshing as a shampoo with Birt's Head Wash. It cleans the scalp of all impurities and brings out the real life and luster of the hair. It removes dandruff and stops the hair from falling out.

Birt's Head Wash is a scientific preparation made of refined soap, cochin coconut oil, white of eggs, glycerine and salicylic acid.

PLAN LONG AIR FLIGHT

Huge Airplane Will Cover Total of 7805 Miles Passing Over 31 States

The most pretentious and extended flight yet planned by the air service of the United States army—a flight which will, if successful, completely rim the country from seaboard to seaboard and from the Canadian line to the gulf—has been announced as being contemplated by Lieut. Col. R. S. Hartz, junior military aviator, commanding officer of Bolling field, Washington, D. C., with the sanction of the director of military aeronautics.

The date of starting is not known, but many facts and figures incident to the flight already have been brought to light and they are of the utmost interest. The airplane to be used is a United States Martin bomber, but slightly less in size than the NC-4 and the mileage planned will total approximately 7805 miles, segregated into relays as follows:

Washington, D. C., to Miami, Fla., 1120 miles.

Miami to San Antonio, Tex., 1140 miles.

San Antonio to San Diego, Cal., 1120 miles.

San Diego to Seattle, Wash., 1170 miles.

Seattle to Duluth, Minn., 1375 miles.

Duluth to Augusta, Me., 1245 miles.

Augusta to Washington, D. C., 535 miles.

Total, 7805 miles.

Of course the flight will not be direct between the cities named in the itinerary, but will vary according to considerations and demands to be determined by Col. Hartz. The huge bomber will pass over 31 states and over or near 55 cities. Thirty-six mountain ranges and peaks, nine water sheds, 48 oceans, gulfs, seas, bays and lakes, and 55 rivers will be some of the other geographical landmarks passed over.

The state of Florida will have opportunity to see the voyager over an extent of 935 miles; 900 miles of California will be covered, 765 miles of Texas, 565 miles of Montana, 333 miles of Washington, 344 miles of New York and the other states in diminishing distances down to the District of Columbia, only 10 miles of which will be traversed. Massachusetts is way down in the list with 65 miles.

Although the entire trip will be more or less hazardous, the flights over mountains and wild, uninhabited sections will be fraught with the greatest dangers. Practically every important range in the country will be passed, including the Big Horn, Hurro, Cascade, Coast Range, Coeur d'Alene, Cooke Range, Franklin and Gila ranges, McCloud, Mission, the Rockies, St. Helena Range, San Jacinto and Yaldero.

The rivers to be flown over include: Androscoggin, Blackstone, Charles, Cheyenne, Clark, Colorado, Columbia, Connecticut, Delaware, Erie canal, Grand, Merrimack, Missouri, Mississippi, Potomac, Rappahannock, Raritan, Roanoke, Saco, Salmon, Savannah, Susquehanna, Yellowstone and River of the North.

Of the larger cities to see the plane are New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Spokane, Providence, Rochester, Seattle, Savannah, Cleveland, Boston, Detroit, Duluth, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Portland, Ore., and Portland, Me.

The flight is being planned for the interest of recruiting, charting of routes and the locating of landing fields, but aside from these duties history will be in the making every mile of the trip and if it goes through according to schedule will be an epoch making event.

STRIKE FOR MORE FOOD

2500 Military Prisoners
at Leavenworth Attack Guards

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 23.—

Twenty-five hundred military prisoners in the disciplinary barracks at the federal prison went on strike yesterday and resisted attempts of the guards to force them to work. Col. Frederick Rice, in command of the barracks, received a committee of 12 prisoners, who asked that the men be given shorter hours and more to eat. When the men were ordered from their cells yesterday virtually all of them refused and guards who later attempted to force the men from their cells were beaten back.

The 12 prisoners who were given a hearing before Col. Rice were largely foreign-born radicals, prison officials said. They were appointed at a secret meeting held Saturday afternoon. Col. Rice said he would communicate the men's demands to Washington last night.

The men involved in the strike are all military prisoners, many of them sentenced in France.

SAYS STREET CARS MAY SOON BE THING OF PAST

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Municipal ownership of street railways yesterday received for the first time the approval of a witness appearing before the federal electric railways commission. Samuel R. Bertron of New York, who said his banking firm had financed about 50 street railway properties, including those in Buffalo, New Orleans, Memphis and Birmingham, declared his belief that traction properties owned by a municipality would be operated efficiently and would not be subject to the political and other ailments ordinarily ascribed to that form of management.

Mr. Bertron agreed with Job E. Hedges, receiver for the New York Railways Co., and J. K. Newman, representing traction interests in New Orleans, St. Louis and other cities, who also were heard, that unless something was done quickly, preferably increases in rates for temporary relief, the plight of the street railways throughout the country would be serious. Mr. Hedges said that the companies might "go out" entirely and cease to be a part of community life.

Thomas L. Ferguson, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, expressed the opinion that the financial situation of the street railways was the most acute internal problem now facing the country. The present need, he said, was an increased fare.

Asked how long increased wages

might be expected to continue, Mr. Ferguson said he believed the wage level would not fall for years. John J. Stanley, president of the Cleveland Railways Co., described the service-at-cost plan originating there, which has received much attention from the commission.

REOPEN TROLLEY MEN'S WAGE CASE

On the ground that changed conditions make higher compensation necessary, the Bay State Street Railway Co. conductors and motormen and other union employees will have their wage case reopened by the national war labor board. Examiner Charlton Osburn, representing the board, will hold a hearing in Boston, Saturday, July 26. He will listen to testimony and take whatever other evidence is offered and report to the war labor board.

On December 31, 1918, by a retroactive decree of the war labor board, the maximum wage of conductors and motormen was increased as of October 22, 1918 from 40 cents to 45 cents an hour and a proportionate increase was also granted to miscellaneous union employees, whose minimum wage was established at $2.40 an hour.

The public trustees and the employees have agreed to abide by the decision of the board.

James L. Boherty, of Springfield, has been agreed upon by Samuel H. Pillsbury, representing the company, and James H. Vahey, counsel for the Car-men's union, as the third arbitrator in the dispute between the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company and its employees relative to the use of the Rooker register.

It is anticipated that the arbitration proceedings will begin immediately.

COMMISSION GRANTS MINOR LICENSES

The following minor licenses were granted by the license commission at its regular meeting last evening:

To sell ice cream on the Lord's day, Leo Turzepski, 417 Adams street. Mrs. Della McLaughlin, 58 Fremont street. Charles T. Whitney, 519 Middlesex street. Thomas H. Riley, 69 Exeter street. Blanche E. Polten, 265 Mammoth road; auctioneer. Arthur J. Brooks, 232 High street; junk dealers. George A. Welch, 67 Leverett street. A. J. Harris Co., Tanner street; motor bus. Patrick Keegan, 467 Mammoth road.

The following were surrendered and cancelled: To sell ice cream on the Lord's day, Thomas Riley, 69 Exeter street and Desire Lavigne, 265 Mammoth road.

WESTFORD NURSE RESIGNS

Miss Agnes Weir, public health nurse for the town of Westford, has resigned her position and Miss Eva M. Lord of Forge Village has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Miss Lord is a graduate of the Framingham hospital. She was district nurse in East Jeffrey and Westboro and has recently returned from 13 months' service at base hospital 66 in France.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU A SUCCESS HERE

J. B. Densmore, federal director general of the United States employment service, paid a flying visit to the Lowell United States employment bureau late yesterday afternoon, and after a brief conference with Mayor Thompson, representatives of the board of trade, and community labor board officials, announced that he was much pleased with the results achieved by the local office, and gave his assurance that the bureau would be continued.

Director Densmore was formerly assistant general of the United States department of labor, and was responsible for the inception of the United States employment service in its present form in January, 1918, when he was requested by President Wilson to take a hand in the forming of the organization.

That the work of the local bureau has been extremely commendable is proven by the fact that since its inception in August, 1918, approximately 5000 people have been placed in profitable positions, including soldiers, sailors and other war workers. Lowell is now the only city in Massachusetts, with the exception of Boston, which has an employment bureau supported by the federal government.

Others present at the conference were Edward F. McGrady, assistant federal director of the United States employment service of Massachusetts; Fred N. Wier, chairman of the community labor board; Mrs. Annie Reagan, John O'Donoghue, president of the board of trade, and John J. O'Rourke, secretary of the board.

NO MORE "EATS" AT WAVERLY HOTEL

The Waverly hotel, one of the oldest and best known hostilities in Lowell, has gone out of business. The Ervin B. Smith Co., bought the building some time ago and will take possession about Sept. 1. The new owners plan extensive alterations necessary for the accommodation of their business. The company's present place of business is across the street from the hotel.

The Waverly always had the reputation as a good "eating" house. Its steaks, chops, chickens, lobsters, etc., were second to none in the country and the hotel was well patronized by motorists. The dining rooms and grill room were closed about two weeks ago, much to the disappointment of many, especially those who enjoyed the excellent lunch served every day at noon, except Sunday. It was a 40 cent lunch and strangers, travelers and others were often heard to say that it could not be duplicated anywhere in New England for less than 60 or 70 cents.

The old timers remember the Waverly hotel way back in Jack Derby's time when it had a reputation for game dinners. Later on the late Owen Carney turned his attention from horseshoeing to hotel-keeping and developed into a very progressive hotel man. He probably spent more money on the building than all of its temporary owners. He was responsible for the grill room, rathskeller and other improvements. But under all managements and up until its dining rooms were closed the hotel maintained its reputation for good meals and good service. The hotel was never more successful than under its last management.

WILL NOT RECEIVE BONUS UNTIL AUG. 1

The Lowell men who saw service in the world war and who are entitled to the $100 bonus voted them by the Massachusetts legislature will not receive their money until the first of August, at least. Payment will be made by check, sent from the state treasurer's office, but inasmuch as $20,000,000 will have to be distributed and various details relative to the discharge, place and length of residence, etc., of each and every applicant for the gratuity must be verified, it is clearly evident that considerable time will be taken up before the checks can be put into the mail. The checks have already been prepared and are drawn on the National Shawmut bank of Boston. No less than 200,000 specially designed checks will be needed to give every service man his rightful due.

ELECTION OFFICERS

The following election officers were appointed at a recent meeting of the selectmen for the town of Billerica. Precinct 1: Warden, Michael H. McElgott; deputy warden, Charles E. Scott; clerk, Charles A. Wright; deputy clerk, Herbert A. King; inspectors, Philip B. Dolan, Everett S. Bull; deputy inspectors, Frank L. Day, D. Fred Reardon.

Precinct 2: Warden, Frederick G. Brown; deputy warden, Charles H. Bailey; clerk, Dennis J. Mahoney; deputy clerk, Timothy J. McCarthy, Jr.; inspectors, Frank E. Walker and Edward R. Costello; deputy inspectors, John J. Ritchie and John R. Higgins. The jury list was revised in accordance with the state laws.

WITH THE LEGISLATORS ON BEACON HILL

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 23.—Practically all of the two legislative sessions in the senate yesterday were devoted to discussions, more or less relevant, of various aspects of the street railway situation.

No final action was taken on any of the bills, the general five-cent fare bill being put over until tomorrow; the Cavanaugh public manager bill was referred to the committee on ways and means, and the Eastern Massachusetts bill was sent back to the committee on bills in third reading for consideration of the several amendments adopted.

By far the most significant action of the senate today lay in its adopting amendments in each case providing that any money loaned by the commonwealth for the rehabilitation of any company shall be a first lien upon its property. This means, in effect, that the money must be returned to the commonwealth before any bonds of the company may be paid off, or any stock redeemed.

To the Eastern Massachusetts bill there was also added an amendment providing that it shall take effect only in the event that it is accepted at the next state election by the voters of the several cities and towns in which the company operates.

During the debate Senator John E. Beck of Chelsea took occasion to criticize the senate for considering, at this late stage of the session, legislation of such vital importance to the car-riding public without making any effort either to ascertain or to accomplish the desires of that public. "The legislation which you have been considering today," he said, "can be of benefit only to the stockholders in these companies. The five-cent fare is of course an attractive bait, but it cannot catch me or anyone else who is at all familiar with the situation and who is desirous of dealing with it from the standpoint of the car riders. If our transportation system must break down, let it break, rather than attempt to save it by the passage of legislation such as this which cannot possibly be of any benefit to the car riders. It's about time we stopped playing to the galleries; let us give the people an opportunity to discuss this matter and decide what they deem to be best, and then next year we can come up here and pass the right kind of legislation. Let us not, in these moments when we are tired of sitting here and the people are tired of having us here, pass legislation which is nothing but political bunk. That's all it is—bunk."

School Teachers' Pay

The senate refused to exempt towns having a valuation of less than $2,000,000 from the law requiring that public school teachers shall be paid not less than $550 per year. At present towns having a valuation of less than $1,000,000 are exempted, and Senator Tarbell sought to have the exemption extended to include those with the larger valuation. Senator Churchill of Amherst opposed the motion, contending that children attending school in the smaller towns of the state are fully entitled to obtain their instruction from normal school graduates, and teachers of that class will not accept appointments, especially in the remote districts, for less than the amount required by law. Senator Tarbell retorted that some of the smaller towns cannot afford to pay so high a

Recess Committee

Senator Cavanaugh made an unsuccessful attempt to revive the order, reported yesterday, providing for the appointment of a recess committee of 21 members to consolidate the general laws, stating that if he were allowed to do so he would present an order eliminating the provision of the previous order, that each member of the committee shall be paid $100 for his services. Objection by Senator Weston of Newbury prevented consideration of the order in the senate, but it was rumored that tomorrow Representative Essex S. Abbott of Haverhill will present in the house an order providing for an unpaid recess committee of 21 members for the same purpose. The house passed through all its readings, under suspension of the rules, a bill authorizing cities and towns to lease public buildings or parts of such buildings to posts of the American Legion.

In the house the ways and means committee reported "ought to pass" on the bill providing that $1,000,000 of the proceeds of the income tax shall be used as a state school fund, for the purpose of equalizing educational opportunities of children in all parts of the state. The democratic members of the committee, Messrs. Mitchell of Springfield, Fitzgerald and Donovan of Boston, dissent.

The tobacco growers in the southern counties have also lost heavily. In the peach belts on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake bay and in the mountain orchards in the western section the fruit is rotting.

MORE ARRESTS FOR I.W.W. DEPORTATIONS

BISBEE, Ariz., July 23.—With the arrest of 41 more citizens of the Warren district yesterday on charges of kidnapping in connection with the deportation of 1199 I.W.W. in July, 1917, a total of 165 arrests has been made in two days. The defendants were released on $2000 bonds each. Two motion picture men were busy about the police court and city streets where the defendants gathered. Stores, offices and even banks closed while the films were taken.

The Buildings Danced Around Him

Mr. W. H. Lincoln of Durfield, Mass., suffered for 19 years with catarrh. He was seized with severe dizzy spells when the buildings seemed to dance around him, and he could hardly see. He took cold easily and was bothered with throat trouble. Coughing and constantly spitting up mucus added to his discomfort. Nothing he took seemed to help him. Then a neighbor told him of Goldine.

316,554 DISCHARGED BY
NAVY SINCE NOV. 11

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Demobilization of the navy is progressing satisfactorily, according to a navy department announcement today. A total of 316,554 enlisted men has been discharged since the armistice was signed of whom 24,306 were enlisted in the regular service and 222,248 were members of the reserve force who were released to inactive duty, subject to call. More than 22,500 reserve officers have been returned to civil life and 7124 still are on duty.

There still are 7000 enlisted men of the reserve force on duty, most of them aboard transports. They will be released as rapidly as recruits can be obtained to take their places. It is expected all of the reserve officers and men remaining in the service will be released within two months.

Oppose Pool in Auditorium

vice club, the Y.W.C.A., the Middlesex Women's club, the League of Catholic Women and the Lowell Guild appeared before the commission in the mayor's reception room and presented their arguments. Those present, in addition to members of the commission, included ed Mrs. W. L. Robertson, Miss Winnifred Loughridge and Miss Catherine Cronin of the Community Service club; Mrs. H. K. Boardman, Middlesex Women's club and Lowell Guild, Miss Alice T. Lee, League of Catholic Women and Miss Helen W. Barnes, of the Y.W.C.A.

The petitioners said that they represented at least 6000 women and that the only pool to which Lowell women have entrance is that at Rogers hall. About 100 enjoy this pool daily, but this number is but a fraction of those who would like to enjoy other pools.

The commission said that it was deeply cognizant of the desirability of a swimming pool for the women of the city, but that a pool constructed in the basement of the proposed auditorium would probably be bereft of sunshine and therefore unsanitary. The whole affair was a matter of dollars and cents, Chairman Harrington said, and inasmuch as the $1,000,000 appropriated for the building was really worth today what $600,000 was worth ten years ago, the commission had decided to keep down the size of the structure as much as possible and that it was doubtful if the building would be as large as originally anticipated.

Mrs. W. L. Robertson of the Community Service club was the first speaker and she emphasized the fact that Lowell was an industrial city in her plea for a swimming pool. Not only did these interested in the project believe that there should be a swimming pool with shower baths, etc., provided for the women of the city, she said, but they also believed that a place should be provided where women and girls could be given instruction in hygiene. She broached the matter of placing a woman on the auditorium commission. Chairman Harrington replied that the law provided for men only on the commission, but that it might be well to have a woman on the board of trustees appointed after the building is completed.

Miss Catherine Cronin, also of the Community Service club, said that the pool should be 60 by 20 feet with margins of five or six feet on either side. Shower baths and dressing rooms should also be provided, she thought.

Miss Alice T. Lee, representing the League of Catholic Women, stated that she had not made a thorough study of the project, but that she strongly favored the including of a pool in the auditorium building.

Miss Helen W. Barnes, president of the Y.W.C.A., said that Lowell was greatly in need of a swimming pool for its girls and women and thought the auditorium would afford a good opportunity for the erection of one.

Mayor Thompson believed that the cost of such a pool with its plumbing and heating would be about $50,000. He quoted the opinion of architects to the effect that no swimming pool should be constructed in the basement of a building.

Mrs. Harry K. Boardman of the Middlesex Women's club wanted to know if the commission had considered baths in the auditorium for men. Chairman Harrington replied that baths of no kind for men or women had been considered. Mrs. Boardman was in favor of baths for everybody. In response to a query from Walter L. Parker, a member of the commission, she said that she did believe the auditorium a proper place for a swimming pool and that it should be a centre for such things.

Mayor Thompson's estimate of $50,000 for the pool and necessary fixtures was too high, in the opinion of Miss Winnifred Loughridge, executive secretary of the Community Service club; she believed that $25,000 would be enough. Miss Cronin also thought that this amount would be sufficient. She quoted costs of running such a pool elsewhere.

After various questions had been asked by members of the commission, Chairman Harrington said he felt it his duty to enlighten the ladies on the seriousness of the situation. In the first place, he said, it is doubtful whether the commission has authority under the legislative act to build a swimming pool in connection with the auditorium. That matter would have to be referred to the city solicitor.

"Assuming that we had the right and we did build the swimming pool," continued the chairman, "there is no assurance that the city government would operate it after it had been built, as this would be a very expensive project. Water would have to be kept hot and the general cost of maintenance would be considerable."

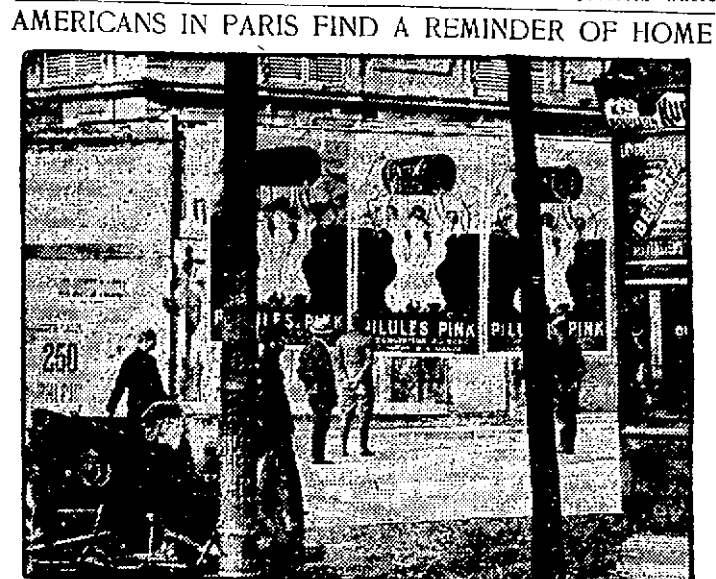

"In the second place, the combination of a swimming pool and the auditorium is not desirable. For the added expense necessary to include a pool in the proposed building, we could get three bath houses three times as large, better and more sanitary. The construction of an auditorium building is heavy; the construction necessary for a bath house is light. It could be built more cheaply as a separate building. It could be built on cheaper land."

"If a swimming pool were included in the auditorium building, it would have to be put in the basement of the wing at the East Merrimack street and Brown street corner. The space there would be about one-third what is really necessary. It would be impossible for the sunlight to get in and sanitary engineers agree that sunlight coming through a glass roof should sterilize the water in a swimming pool."

"The architect says there would be danger of water from the pool seeping into the foundation which is of sand and gravel. The result would be expansion in frosty weather. The only way to overcome this would be to put down the foundation so deep that we might find ourselves in the same box as the builders of another local structure who had to exceed their most liberal estimates by $50,000 in order to get in a foundation."

"For the cost of putting a swimming pool in the auditorium, three bath houses could be distributed throughout the city, and I think that is a phase of the matter, which should be given consideration. The bath houses are needed in all parts of the city, not merely one."

"You must remember that $1,000,000 today is worth just about what $600,000 was worth ten years ago. And if we can't build the auditorium for $1,000,000, we'll not build it at all. There would really be no space under the auditorium proper for the pool. In the wing of the building to be known as Liberty hall we are going to have a dance hall and any moisture under this would be bad for a finished hardwood floor. Of course, we could make it water-proof and weather-proof, but the commission believes the size of the structure should be kept down."

One of the first signs that greeted the American soldiers in France were the posters advertising "Pillules Pink pour Personnes Palees" which they quickly recognized as the name in French of a well-known American remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. In the above photograph taken on the avenue of the Champs Elysees a group of Americans are seen testing their knowledge of French on the familiar poster. One of the guns captured from the Germans during the last offensive, now exhibited on both sides of the fashionable avenue, is shown in the picture.

For many years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a household remedy not only in America but throughout the globe. The world-wide use of this American remedy can be accounted for only by the merit that these wonderful blood-making pills possess.

From time to time there have been printed in this paper statements from grateful people who have been benefited by this remedy. They show what can be accomplished in many conditions of ill health by building up the blood and strengthening the nerves, how many symptoms such as disordered digestion, sleeplessness, sick headache, pallor of the face and lips, weakness after slight exertion and a tendency to worry over trifles, are caused by thin blood.

Do not become discouraged if your case has not been benefited by other treatment but try the tonic pills that have accomplished such wonderful results under the same conditions.

"Building Up the Blood" is a booklet full of useful information. Every mother and every growing girl should have one. The booklet on diet will also prove of value to victims of stomach trouble. These books will be sent free on request.

There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by your own druggist or will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

And then, we must have room to store the seats taken from the dance hall.

"We must provide for the river banks, balustrade, etc. There may be some question as to whether we can put in an organ on the money we have but if it comes to a question of an organ or a bath house, I'll vote for an organ. We must take into consideration the sinking of the building in warm weather, following cold spells, and earth disturbances."

"The desirability of a swimming pool for the women of the city is unquestioned, but it should be designed as such and not as part of another building. From the rough details of the plans already prepared, the building will not be quite as large as we originally anticipated, but it will seat 1000 people at least."

The conference concluded at 1:30 o'clock.

Alkali in Shampoos
Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

20,000 U. S. SOLDIERS TOOK FOREIGN BRIDES

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Special regiments, composed largely, if not entirely of married men, probably will result from the war department policy announced today regarding the disposition of regulars who are returning to this country with French wives. Orders have been sent to commanding officers of debarkation ports to transfer such men and their wives to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., or Fort Myer, Va., when they belong to the cavalry, and to Madison Barracks, N. Y., in the case of infantrymen.

Tentatively selected as the units which are to become the P. P. V. (father of families veterans) of the military establishment are the third cavalry at Fort Myer and Ethan Allen, and the fifth cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe.

Ga., and an infantry regiment, yet to be named at the New York post. The regimental commander in each instance has been instructed to provide facilities which will enable the soldier to take care of his new responsibilities. Official estimates are that 20,000 American soldiers took foreign brides. A majority of these men were American enlistments and it is believed three regiments will be sufficient to accommodate the regulars.

LABOR SHORTAGE IN MOTOR INDUSTRY

There is an acute scarcity of skilled labor in the motor trade throughout the United States and particularly in Chicago. It is reported today to Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, by the editor of a leading motor magazine. There are therefore excellent opportunities with the motor industry, for finding satisfactory employment.

This offers an attractive field to discharged service men, a great many of whom received a thorough training in the handling of motors during their service in the army. The motor industry, it is further reported, has utilized the services of discharged soldiers and sailors to the fullest extent. Practically all of the men returned from the service who before enlisting were in the motor industry or trade, have been re-employed. In addition, a great many men who have been trained along motor lines while in the service have also found employment.

On account of the labor unrest in practically all skilled labor lines, however, and on account of the falling off of immigration and apprenticeship during the period of the war, there are still a number of excellent opportunities open to ex-service men who before the war were members of the motor industry, or who during the war acquired skill in the motor trade.

An ex-convict has just secured a good position in a Washington, D. C., bank. He went to the president and said: "I used to be a cashier, but now I am an ex-convict. I served two years in the penitentiary. Will you give me a job?" After a little investigation the president did.

TEN PERSONS SHOT

Disorders Attend Breaking
Up of Majority Socialist
Meeting in Berlin

BERLIN, Tuesday, July 22 (By the Associated Press).—Ten persons were shot during disorders which attended the breaking up of a majority socialist meeting by communists and Spartacists yesterday. Those attending the meeting, which was held in the Trades Union building, attempted to lynch the man who fired the shots but he was saved by hospital helpers who were in the building.

Several majority socialist meetings yesterday did not develop as smoothly and quietly as they began. Communists and Spartacists by the pre-arranged plan smuggled fellow radicals into halls where the majority socialists were congregated and there broke up the meetings by cat calls and other noises and even by violence.

At countless meetings the majority socialist speakers gave up attempts to speak after half an hour of shouting, and in the Trades Union building, where the biggest meeting was held, chairs, beer bottles and even tables were flung about in a successful attempt to break up the gathering. A communist agitator jumped on the stage while Erich Kuttner, editor of Vorwarts, was speaking, and made a counter speech.

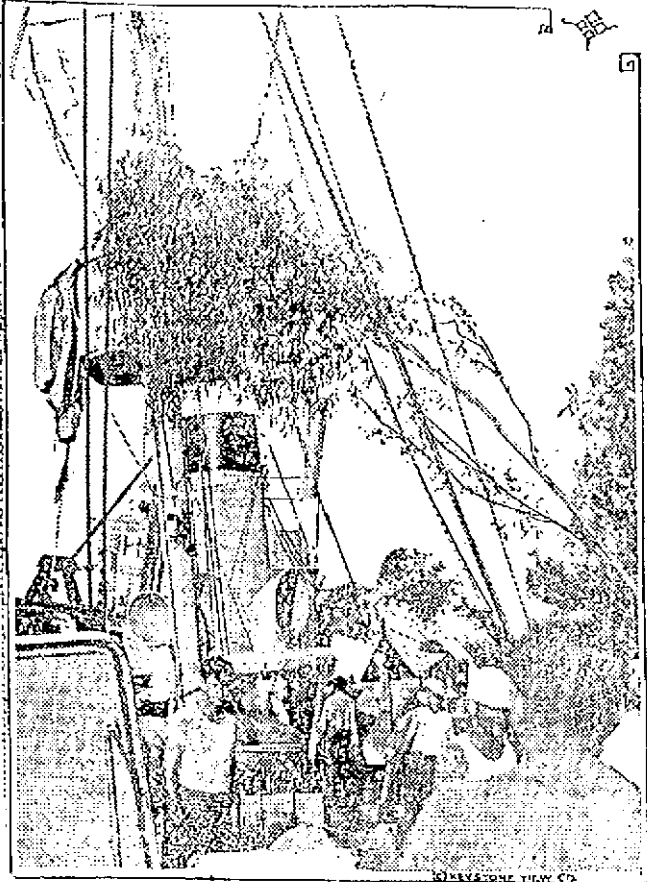

The hall instantly was transferred into a bedlam, which increased as the opponents began to throw glasses and seize chairs with which to belabor each other. Suddenly shots were fired. Ten persons were wounded, including Kuttner, who was attended by workers and hospital helpers. The audience tried to lynch the shooter, who also was saved by the hospital helpers.

Government troops had to quell wordy riots in other halls. The Berlin press is indignant at the uproar. The Vorwarts heads its leader, "Instead of conciliating the people—civil war." The People's Gazette calls the day "the senseless strike Monday."

Y.D. MEN CONFIDENT
MORRIS WILL WIN

Johnny Morris, the champion welter-weight of the Yankee Division, who will meet Paul Doyle of New York in the main bout at the Crescent rink tomorrow night, is looked upon as one of the hardest hitters of his weight in this section. While overseas he topped over opponents in great style and Lowell members of the famous division who saw him perform feel confident that he will win over Doyle. Both are in good condition, and the bout looks like a hummer from start to finish.

Young Chakas, one of the few Greeks in this vicinity performing within the squared circle, who balls from Manchester and Tony Vatin, the Brighton "Iron man," will meet in the semi-final, and their offering is sure to be a lively one. Both are aggressive and can hit hard. They are scheduled to work eight rounds.

Young Arvilla of the Lisbon club, who with Young Neary, appeared in a double knockout bout here a few months ago, will tackle Kid Arthur of West Centralville in another eight-round event. Young Norton, also of the Lisbon club, who has been training for a long time, will meet Young Murphy, a local boy in the preliminary. Maitry Carney of Lowell will referee all bouts.

AMERICAN SOCCER
CHAMPS GO TO EUROPE

NEW YORK, July 23.—Members of the Bethlehem Steel Football club, American soccer champions, left today on the steamship Stockholm for a three months' tour in Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark and Brazil. Thomas W. Cahill, honorary secretary of the United States Football association is director of the tour.

COLONIAL OARSMEN
COMING TO AMERICA

BOSTON, July 23.—Oarsmen from Australia, New Zealand and Canada plan to visit this country in September, for races with American crews. Major Paul Whitcomb, a former Harvard oarsman, who is now overseas sent a cablegram to his brother, Lethrop, here, announcing the desire of the colonial oarsmen to meet the American rowers. As a result local rowing officials are discussing arrangements for an international regatta in the Charles river basin, some time in September.

$25,000 FOR MAY'S

Comiskey Offers Huge Sum
For Red Sox Star

CHICAGO, July 23.—Carl Mays, eminent exponent of the submarine delivery, may soon be wearing the uniform of the White Sox. If Pops Comiskey doesn't land this excellent flinger it won't be because he failed to come across with the cash. It was reported yesterday that Comiskey had offered $25,000 for the Red Sox hurler. With a pennant staring him in the face for 1919, the Sox magnate is determined to get another winning pitcher for Cleveland, regardless of cost. If he fails to land Mays, the man who controls the destinies of the South Side team will go after some other strong-armed hurler.

FIVE DRIVERS INJURED IN TRACK SPILL

TOLEDO, O., July 23.—Horses, drivers and sulkeys were piled up in a heap at Miami Driving park yesterday afternoon, when a half-dozen entrants crashed into Minor Hal, Brusie driving, as he attempted to cut across the track just as the bunch rounded the turn into the stretch in the second heat of the 2:00 pace.

Five drivers were injured, but the heat was finished and the damaged entrants given places. Brusie was cut above one eye, Allen, behind, William Patch, sustained a broken wrist, Betty Blacklock jumped the fence with Driver Walker and the latter escaped with a sprained leg. Hedrick, sitting on Alexander the Great's tail, was cut about the face and head, and Murphy, holding Edgar R's reins, came out of the mess with a sprained leg. It was an exciting heat, with a good start, and every driver looking out for himself and the "devil take the hindmost." The field was divided into two bunches as the horses rounded the last turn. Minor Hal, leading the second group, attempted to cut across for a position on the outside of the first bunch when the crash came.

A shudder ran through the great crowd, which was as large as that in attendance on the opening day. For a moment the excitement was intense and it did not subside until it was learned that none of the drivers had been killed.

The track was fast and it was a great day for horse lovers.

One record was broken when Goldie Todd, driven by Geers, paced the last quarter in 28 1/2 in the first heat of the 2:00 pace. This was the fastest quarter of the year.

The major honors of the day were won by Geers and Murphy. The latter earned the big share of the purse of $1000 when he beat in the 2:11 trot and the Maumee stake of $3000 with Royal Mac. "Pop" Geers drove Goldie Todd to victory in the 2:00 pace for a purse of $1000.

The Call'em

The Red Sox trotted out a new pitcher yesterday—one Paul Musser of Des Moines—and although he lost his game, 2 to 1, he should not feel the reverse too keenly for he was pitted against Dutch Leonard, unhittable when right. Barrow was more than satisfied with the rookie's work and has high hopes for his future. Musser is a right-hander and after leaving college played for a time in the Tri-State league and later in the Ohio State league. He was with Washington for a short time in 1912 and 1913 and was then sent to Atlanta. He worked for Los Angeles in 1914 from which club he went to Des Moines. He comes back to the majors with an impressive strikeout record and showed the courage yesterday when he fanned Vach, Coleman and Plagstad, a trio of tearing sluggers.

Down With Autocracy
It would be a bad move on the part of the John J. White Sox to purchase Carl Mays for any price. Such a deal would save too strongly of the habits of the National league in allowing one club to obtain a bunch of stars in the acute detriment of other teams—as an illustration, the New York Giants. It is generally believed that Mays would be a winning pitcher with almost any club in the circuit outside of the Red Sox and if Chicago got him a pennant for Comiskey would be practically assured. The A. L. race between Chicago, New York, Cleveland and Detroit, is too tight to deliberately allow any one of the quartet to obtain the services of the submarine artist.

Couldn't Stand the Golf
Slung by considerable newspaper and other criticism, which he considered unjustified, Pat Flaherty has resigned as manager of the Louisville team of the American association. He has temporarily been succeeded by Joe Mc-

Hard Hays to Pool
Good proof of the drastic action grand circuit judges may take when a driver does not try to place his horse in a race was given at Toledo yesterday when Ashley of Detroit, piloting Sybil S. He finished second in the first heat and pushed his horse into first place in the second brush. In the third he dropped back to tenth place and his suspension followed.

William Wright, long of limb and possessing an uncanny faculty of picking winners, paroled his angular frame in the cramped confines of a bright, wooden wheelbarrow at 7 o'clock last night and was trundled through Merrimack street, from the square to the C.M.A.C. building by Henry Levasseur. It was a homely production of "Faid in Full" and although Henry weakened a little as the hill grew steeper in upper Merrimack street, he stuck to his handles and cheerfully endured the tantalizing grin of satisfaction which covered the face of the sagacious William.

It all came about when Henry and William crossed swords over the outcome of the C.M.A.C.—R. & M. car shops baseball game played at Spaulding Park on Saturday. "Hen" avowed as how he liked the looks of the C.M.A.C. while Bill said he guessed he would string along with the railroad boys. Bill was as stupid as a fox in making the bet one of labor, rather than the mere exchange of currency and when the car shop team won the game he was all set for the big ride. There was a forfeit sum of $5 placed for non-appearance, but Henry had no idea of losing the V.

TO ALLOW WOMEN TO HOLD PUBLIC OFFICES

LONDON, Tuesday, July 22.—The bill entitling women to hold public offices and exercise public functions, which passed second reading in the house of lords today is one introduced by the government as a substitute for the bill of William G. Adamson in the house of commons on behalf of the labor party. The Adamson bill gave women the franchise on the same terms as men, but only at the age of 30. The government bill does not change the franchise and does not remove the disqualification excluding women from the higher ranks of civil service. It contains a clause entitling peeresses in their own right to sit in the house of lords.

LOWELL STRONG ON BUTTERMILK

Dealers Claim Spindle City People Are Champion Buttermilk Drinkers

Only Kick in Buttermilk
Comes From the Cow—
Very Healthy Drink

Is Lowell the champion buttermilk town of New England? Local buttermilk dealers say so, and they ought to know.

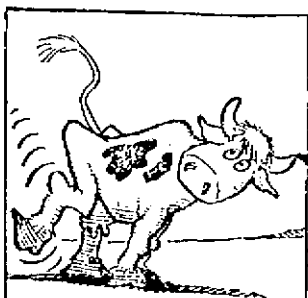

The peak of her buttermilk consumption may be said to be reached during the hot summer months of June, July and August. Our average consumption of buttermilk at the present time is certified to be 1000 quarts daily.

All other New England cities and towns disposed to dispute our buttermilk drinking honors would find themselves left at the starting post as compared to the colossal record for imbibing this healthy fluid Lowell modestly owns up to and does not particularly brag about.

The secretary of agriculture designated July 1 as "National Buttermilk Day," but every day is a buttermilk day for Lowell people. Perhaps Mr. Houston doesn't know about our consumption of buttermilk per day, but if he did he would probably feel like drawing us near to his heart.

One of the reasons why we drink so much buttermilk in Lowell is because it is so easy to procure and the price is reasonable. There is one big dairy company selling sweet milk whose drivers carry a supply of buttermilk on their teams at all times and the housewife, whether she is a customer of the driver's or not, can run out any time she wishes and buy a quart bottle of buttermilk for eight cents. Another dairy company with a place of business in Worthen street distributes its buttermilk through 100 Lowell food stores and in addition will sell buttermilk at its creamery. Manager James B. Moody of the Turner Centre Dairymaking association has been handling buttermilk and other dairy products in Lowell for a period of 20 years and he gave The Sun some interesting information about the habit of drinking buttermilk in Lowell.

City's First Dispenser

"I presume credit for fostering the good, healthy habit of drinking buttermilk in our city," began Mr. Moody, "ought to be extended to the late W. O. Wing, whom thousands of our older citizens will remember, for he peddled buttermilk in large quantities more than 20 years ago. He found, as I have heard him tell the story, that many of our residents in Lowell had been in the habit of drinking buttermilk in the old country. Wing peddled good buttermilk and these people coming to Lowell to live were glad to have access to this fine drink to which they had been accustomed in their former homes, when it was sold at a moderate price.

"It may be said that the habit has grown steadily ever since. You ask me how much our business in buttermilk has increased since July 1st, when prohibition went into effect. We believe it has increased 100 per cent. We believe we now have an average distribution of 2000 quarts a day and many days the demand is so great for buttermilk we fall short of being able to fill all the demands made on us.

"One of the reasons why buttermilk is a drink relished by men in the habit of drinking liquor is this. Such men tell me that continued use of liquor raises havoc with their stomachs. Oftentimes the stomach gets to a stage where food is hostile to it. Such men turn to drinking buttermilk. They find that buttermilk has an acid in it that is relished by the stomach and has a tonic effect on the stomach. It brings the stomach back to its normal state of health in many cases and is recognized by medical men as being both food and medicine."

Buttermilk Not Alcoholic

Referring to the belief obtaining in some quarters that drinking men resorted to buttermilk because it was thought to have an alcoholic "punch" in it, Mr. Moody said he was inclined to not believe this.

"Let us see how sweet milk analyzes," he said. "Sweet milk has, of fat, about 3.5 per cent, casein 3.5, sugar, 5 per cent, albumen and ash, 1 per cent. This gives a total of 13 per cent and the remaining 87 per cent is of course water. Buttermilk is in many ways similar in its content to sweet milk except that this 5 per cent fat has been removed and become butter. Can you see anything in this analysis that in the slightest way gives any alcoholic indication?"

"The chemical analysis of buttermilk and skimmed milk is practically the same. Buttermilk has it on a good many foods in that it is in some respects a predigested food. We learn oftentimes of doctors prescribing a small amount of buttermilk for babies having food troubles and we know that it is an excellent baby food when given in moderate quantities.

"Many people find that if they drink as much as a quart of sweet milk on a warm summer day it would have a bad effect on their stomach and perhaps give them a headache. Buttermilk on the other hand is, 'the milk without a headache' for the average person could drink as much as three quarts of milk a day, or even more, and not experience physical discomfort. It is refreshing and although a by-product of the dairymaking industry, has nutrition value.

Lowell as Champion Town

Asked what his foundation was for asserting that Lowell drank more buttermilk than any other New England city, Mr. Moody replied:

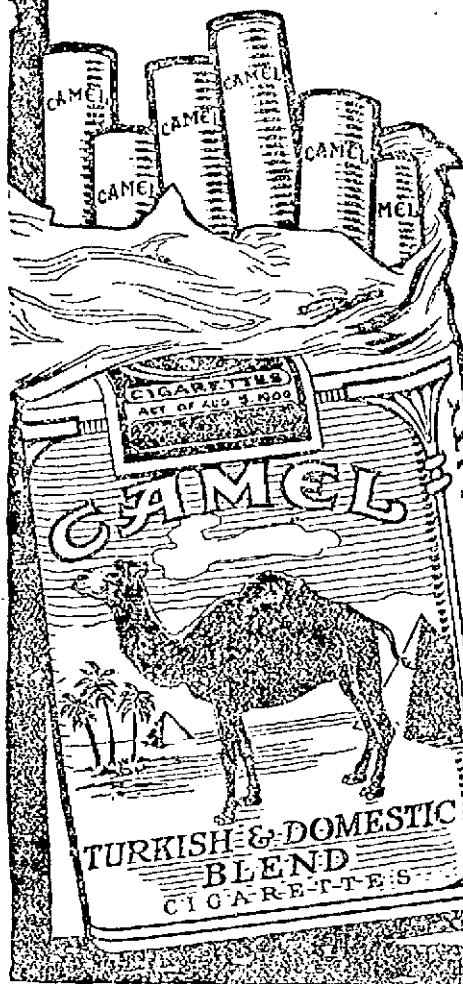

"The concern for which I work has a chain of branches similar to the one maintained in Lowell. We operate dairy product distributing places in upon whites by negroes throughout the day, was no less bitter, but an all-night rain and 2000 armed soldiers, marines and sailors, seven hundred police and several hundred home defense guards prevented organized violence.

The closing of poolrooms, motion picture houses and other places where crowds of negroes might be expected to gather and the policy of the police and military to keep everybody moving enabled the authorities to keep the situation well in hand.

Overseas Troops Called Out

After a conference between Secretary Baker and President Wilson about 2000 troops under the command of Major General W. G. Haan, recently returned from overseas service, was ordered to Washington from Camp Meade and other nearby posts. This force is expected to remain on duty until normal conditions are restored.

Most of the aggression came from the blacks who had armed themselves for retaliation on the whites following the beating of a number of negroes; authorities express the belief that there will be no more serious trouble.

In this district. Hundreds injured; jails filled. Since Monday five persons have been killed and at least ten fatally wounded. Hundreds have been less seriously hurt and the jails and hospitals are overflowing.

Sales of firearms and ammunition in the city has been stopped. With the military practically in control, the authorities express the belief that there will be no more serious trouble.

SEN. MOSES RAPS TREATY

Declares It Is Not League But Big Five to Which Treaty Gives Responsibility

By Accepting Role, U. S.
Would Embroil Itself in Troubles in Europe

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Declaring it is not the League of Nations but the big five to which the peace treaty gives responsibility for effecting the terms of peace, Senator Moses of New Hampshire, a republican member of the foreign relations committee, told the senate today that by accepting the role of a principal power as defined in the treaty the United States would embroil itself for many years to come in the troubles of Europe. He said that while the covenant was bad enough, other provisions of the treaty were worse.

"In this treaty," he said, "are considerations of many things—of shoes and ships and sealing wax, of cabbages and kings. It roams the plains, sails the seas, delves into the earth, and soars into the skies. Huns, horses and huntmen alike come within its purview; books, boundaries, and bullets; guns, goats, guarantees and governments; warships, waterways, worn-out suffrage and Wilhelm II.—in short the alphabet and alliteration alike are agonized in an attempt to deal adequately with merely a topical index to this instrument which we are asked to ratify in haste lest we break the heart of the world."

Look in Vain for 14 Points

"These constitute a victor's peace; and with them I have no quarrel. But we look in vain its 267 pages for the elusive 14 points of peace. Open covenants long since took to hiding; the freedom of the seas was treated with scant courtesy at Paris; the establishment of equality of trade conditions among nations counting to the peace is nowhere to be found in this instrument; the earlier doctrine of no annexations and no indemnities long since became a tragic joke; and there remains alone, so far as present negotiations have been reduced to written form, the general association of nations established by specific covenants. "Neither can we find here any confirmation of the prediction that this treaty was to be written in disregard of the old order of the balance of power and with no element of national commercial greed. All the elements of greed, national suspicion and jealousy are only too evident in almost every article of the treaty."

For Benefit of Big Five

"In short the sun of commercial expansion in which Germany sought a place passes into total eclipse behind this treaty; and the shackles with which she is to be manacled in her obscurity have been forged with meticulous care by the forward-looking men with whom the president was privileged to co-operate at Paris, but whose co-operation was strictly limited to looking out for themselves, while not omitting to see to it that the United States should be made a full partner in every phase of the enterprise designed for the benefit of the members of the big five."

"It naturally follows that a treaty such as this cannot be self-operative; and we have been assured that if we examine it, we shall find that everywhere throughout its manifold provisions its framers have felt obliged to turn to the League of Nations as the indispensable instrumentality for the maintenance of the new order which this instrument purports to set up."

Two Groups of Signatories

"I wish to call attention to the manner in which the signatories to the instrument have separated themselves into two distinct groups—the first comprising the United States, the British empire, France, Italy and Japan, and everywhere throughout the treaty described as the 'principal allied and associated powers'; and the second all the other belligerents with the exception of Costa Rica, whose absence from the peace table has not yet been explained—to the number of 22."

"In the delimitation of the new frontier line between Belgium and Germany, it is not the League of Nations, but a commission of seven persons, five of whom will be appointed by the principal allied and associated powers, who will assume this task. In matters of controversy relating to the return of Alsace-Lorraine to French possession it is not the League of Nations which functions, but the central Rhine commission—an organization set up years ago under the old order and now made use of in the light of a new day. In the establishment of the new Czechoslovak state, it is not the League of Nations which will determine its frontiers, but it is the principal allied and associated powers. Similarly with Poland and so, too, with East Prussia."

"Germany renounces its rights and titles over Danzig, not to the League of Nations, but in favor of the principal allied and associated powers, who are to appoint a commission to delimit the frontier. So, too, with the redistribution of sovereignty over Schleswig. The limitation of armaments has been presented to us as one of the fundamental purposes of the league. Yet nowhere in the instrument does this appear to be the fact."

Throughout the whole line of minutely detailed stipulations which reduce Germany to military impotence, it is not the soothing agency of the League of Nations which essays the task but the strong arm of the principal allied and associated powers. Germany renounces in favor of the principal allied and associated powers and not to the League of Nations, all her rights and titles over the overseas possessions."

Shameful Episode of Shantung

"I shall not dwell upon the shameful episode of Shantung, pausing only to say that it is not to the League of Nations but to Japan that Germany renounces her rights, titles and privileges under the provisions of the treaty."

"The provisions for rendering Germany harmless in a military sense occupy many pages of the treaty. But here again it is a conference of military experts of the principal allied and associated powers and not the League of Nations which will fix the reductions to be made in the number of German effectives and will approve the location and restrict the number of factories and works wherein Germany will be permitted to manufacture arms, munitions and war materials. The diminution of German forces upon the sea is likewise deemed by the treaty of too much importance to be turned over to the League of Nations."

Task of Reparation

"The task of reparation will rest in the hands of an inter-allied commission. In this day of open covenants openly arrived at, it is interesting further to note the absolute requirement in the treaty that all proceedings of this commission shall be private, unless for special reasons and on particular occasions the commission shall decide otherwise."

"The principal allied and associated powers figure 76 times; the allied and associated powers figure 45 times—a total of 121. Whereas the League of Nations figures altogether 57 times and of these 21 refer to its nebulous connection with administration of the Saar valley. It will be neither a delicate nor a difficult task of dissection to remove from the treaty the 15 general provisions which it contains in regard to the League of Nations."

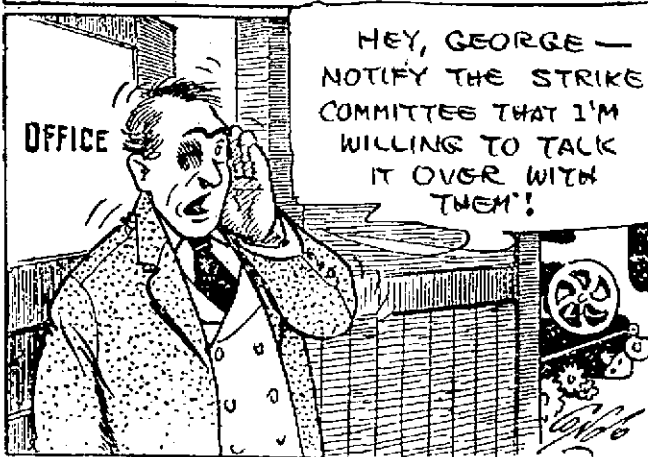

"I hope that an examination of the treaty will convince others as it has convinced me, that the instrument is infinitely worse for us than even the League of Nations, bad as it is. The provisions of this treaty immediately and without recourse thrust us into the endless snarl of attempting to set

Few investors realize that manufacturers of automobiles, commercial trucks and tractors, seldom manufacture their own standard parts, such as Universal Joints, Propeller Shafts, Drives and Cone Clutches.

One of the leading companies specializing in the manufacture of these vital parts is the Hartford Automotive Parts Company with extensive plants at Hartford, Conn.

More than 80 well-known manufacturers of pleasure cars and auto trucks use this Company's products, insuring a diversified market.

SEN. McKELLAR FAVORS LEAGUE

Calls It One of the Greatest Forward Steps in the Nation's History

Declares Most of the Opposition Came From Reac-
tionaries of Old School

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The League of Nations was supported in the senate today by Senator McKellar, democrat of Tennessee, as one of the greatest forward steps in the nation's history. Most of the opposition, he asserted, came from reactionaries of the same school as those who opposed the federal constitution.

"If the reactionaries had had their way in the beginning of our government," he said, "we probably would not have had a republic. If they had had their way the republic would never have been enlarged."

"Every dictate of conscience, every dictate of humanity, every dictate of an enlightened self-interest, every dictate of commercial and industrial advantage, every dictate of a desire for peace, requires the establishment of this great world pact."

"Reactionary republicans and reactionary democrats, who are opposing this league, don't let your hatred of any one man warp and set aside your judgment. Whatever may be said of Mr. Wilson, he has surely done great things for America. Under his administration, we have become a world power faster than in any other like period in our history. All of his work has been done for America. Let not America, who has given this great peace covenant to the world, be the only one to repudiate it."

The speaker quoted Senator Lodge's speech in the senate last December and declared the peace terms laid down there had been substantially embodied in the treaty. Senator Knox, he said, had desired to go even farther than the league covenant in his resolution declaring the United States would co-operate to remove any future menace to European peace.

"The real criticism of the league in the minds of its opponents in the senate," continued Mr. McKellar, "is that Woodrow Wilson took a commanding part in the formation of the league. There may be better plans, but why haven't they been produced?"

He said he did not agree that Article

275,000 COAL MINERS ARE OUT

Welsh Miners Refuse To Join
Yorkshire Strikers—Bonar
Law Talks

Says Strike Protest Against
High Prices, Interference in Russia and Conscription

LONDON, Tuesday, July 22.—The most hopeful feature of the coal strike situation tonight was the decision of the Welsh miners at a conference at Cardiff, not to join the Yorkshire men. The men on strike total about 275,000, Yorkshire, Derbyshire, Nottingham and Monmouth being the counties mainly affected.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, told a questioner in the house of commons today that as far as the government was aware, there was no particular person behind the miners' unrest, and that the movement seemed to be a protest against the increase in the price of coal, the cost of living, military interference in Russia and conscription.

The strikers fear that troops will attempt to break the strike.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Stanley Worth of Washington, D. C., and Miss Laura Herne Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Calhoun of this city were married last evening, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride by Rev. W. F. Whitney of the Centralville Methodist church. The bride was Miss Violet M. Calhoun, a sister of the bride, while the best man was Mr. Rothwell E. Smith of New York. The couple will make their home at 1521 Eighteenth street, Washington, D. C.

It imposed only a moral obligation to go to war to preserve the integrity of members, but that it rightly imposed a legal obligation to do so.

In reply to the charge of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, that the league might be controlled by black, red and yellow races, Senator McKellar quoted this passage from a speech made when Jefferson bought Louisiana:

"We are soon to look for our rulers to the black, yellow and red brethren beyond the Mississippi."

Private Edward T. McGurn was tendered a welcome party at his home, 119 South Walker street, last evening when a large number of his friends gathered to greet him and extend congratulations on his safe return from service in the war. The unit to which he belonged was discharged at Camp Devens yesterday with several others recently returned from France.

Among the party were his friends of the Hemlock camp club of Billerica of which he is a member, and three fellow members of Co. C, Machine Gun Infantry of the 76th Division. These were William Muldoon, of 123 Pleasant street, who returned on July 12; Patrick Harrington, of 2 Adams avenue, who had been transferred to the 1st Division and came back as a casual or unassigned March 10; Private Andrew Kelly, of 105 Manchester street, who had been transferred to the ordnance service and returned as a casual, July 11; Robert L. Holmes, 163 West Sixth street, who served in a leading capacity with the 14th Engineers was also present. He went to France on July 27, 1917, as master engineer and was at first connected with the First Battalion at regimental headquarters. He served later in all the leading battles of the war including the Somme, the Marne, Chateau Thierry and the Argonne. He returned April 27, 1919. He is now employed at the Billerica car-shops.

An informal musical program was carried out with George Freeman and Paul E. Gallagher as pianists. Several popular selections were rendered by the vocalists of the Hemlock club, namely, James Conant, James Bakoy, John Devine, Maurice Quirk, Harry Costello and James McGuire. The young ladies who joined in the various songs and choruses were: the Misses Susan Nelson, Mary Gallagher, Marion Burns, Katie Sullivan, Mary Holmes, Katie Holmes, Margaret and Susan McGurn.

From the five soldiers fresh from thrilling experiences in the war, the others present heard many interesting stories of warfare both on land and sea.

Private McGurn told of the difficulties under which supplies were transported to distant points, sometimes under range of the enemy guns. Mr. Harrington knew more of the food supply than any of the others as he had filled an emergency assignment as cook. Private Muldoon paid a visit to Rev. Fr. Muldoon, a relative in London, while on a furlough. Private Kelly had some lively experiences in the ordnance service but Engineer Holmes could describe all the leading battles of the war from personal observation.

Seasonable refreshments were served and the party dispersed at a late hour after a most enjoyable evening.

WHO KNOWS THIS FISH?

Lor' Man, This Dry Time
Story Knocked Us Out!
H. Gonzales, Please Write

What is to do with ex-Kaiser Bill is one great, big, fat question. Some are knocking him for the nomination of himself in the latest style hemp collar. Others are rooting for a compulsory confinement for him in the famous London hard egg attic.

But de guy what's saving wood in Holland, we read in a despatch the other day, is very fond of fish, and fish happens to be at this time our subject story, so to speak. (Get that "so to speak.") It means a whole lot more than you imagine, for, to be honest about it, if we had all the fish in the world, we'd pinch him for getting near enough to the scales to get weighed.

We can think of so many things, funny, historical biblical and otherwise, in connection with fish, that it is almost impossible to reach the story of our first and pure intentions. The minute we think of fish we think of Jonah and the whale, like Walton, members of the Lowell Fish and Game association, and other piscatorial authorities.

Well, anyhow, there's fish hanging in front of Harry Gonzales' store in Gorham street and if you know anything about fishology you can connect with a nice fishing rod by describing that fish, giving it its proper name, and telling all you know and more, of its genealogy.

Harry knows the kind of fish it is, and so do two or three of Harry's friends, but Harry is game enough to offer the fishing rod prize to any outsider who can properly identify this particular denizen of the deep.

Story For Stay-at-Homes

The fish in question was hooked by John Kennick, a member of the executive committee of the Lowell Fish and Game association. The time was yesterday, early afternoon, and the place off Grave's light.

Mr. Kennick, accompanied by Eddie Shannahan of Suffolk street, and Michael Dowd of Oak street, both old and experienced deep-sea fishermen, set out yesterday morning from Fox Hill bridge, West Lynn, with Capt. P. J. Hogan, in the latter's motor boat. It might be said in passing, that said motor boat is well known to Lowell fishermen, for Capt. Hogan is as familiar with the fishing ground as he is with the streets in West Lynn, and when their luck they accept Capt. Hogan as the day's best bet. With the genial captain to guide them they never come back empty-handed, and besides the wonderful fish, heretofore and hereafter mentioned, the Lowell fishermen who went out from West Lynn yesterday morning came back with cod and haddock galore. In fact they caught more than they could possibly bring home and Capt. Hogan said that on account of the scarcity of fish he would realize quite a pretty penny on the fish that the Lowell men left in his boat.

Story of Real Fish Fight

"The fish had been biting pretty steadily all day," said Mr. Kennick to The Sun reporter today, "when suddenly there was a let-up. We didn't wait long for the cause for pretty soon we saw a great school of those cursed dogfish. We pulled in a few of them just for the satisfaction of cutting their heads off and were enjoying our-

Fish Does Its Own Fishing

Thus directed, the reporter gazed in awe upon the ugliest looking fish that ever entered Lowell, for none. It weighs somewhere in the vicinity of 40 pounds and looks like a monster hornpout. It has a head large as that of a St. Bernard dog, and has a mouth expansion of more than 14 inches. The reporter was put wise to the name of the fish, but was sworn to secrecy because of the fact that Mr. Gonzales has offered the identification prize. But here's a tip for the fellow who wants to guess. On the top of the mouth, outside, there are two horns, similar to those on the hornpout, but much larger, and it is by means of these quill-like horns that this monster and his kind procure food without exertion. They actually bait those horns and, when baited, they protrude and constitute a decoy for smaller and more innocent fish that grab at the bait only to land immediately in the voracious mouth of this most extraordinary fish.

Now, with the few hints that we have dropped about baited horns, etc., some local fishologist surely ought to be able to earn that fishing rod. Mr. Gonzales feels that some member of the Lowell Fish and Game association may be able to annex the rod. Come on Messrs. Harris, Holt, Dearborn and others, and try your luck. "Shorts" Harry, and name this fish, with the understanding, of course, that you have not consulted a biological encyclopedia or dictionary."

The Vandenberg Residence

No 386 Andover Street—Lowell

On Thursday the twenty-fourth day of July nineteen hundred and nineteen beginning very promptly at five o'clock in the afternoon upon the premises here-with described regardless of any condition of the weather I shall sell to whomsoever will bid the most and comply with the Terms and Conditions of Sale the very genteel and dignified residential property between the residences of Mrs. Fremont Ballard Sheed and Mr. Ernest G. Dumas and opposite the broad expanse of General Benjamin F. Butler estate and extending from Andover street through to East Merrimack street. The premises have long been known as one of the finest homes in the Belvidere section of the city of Lowell—possessing exceptional quality and character and luxury of finish. The view from the premises up and down the Merrimack river and over the manufacturing sections of Lowell and across the country to the distances beyond—and at times even to the foothills of the White Mountains—is one long to look at and one which never tires. The buildings are in the centre of 23700 sq. ft. of land area—the grounds being landscape engineered and decorated with shade trees and hedges and shrubbery and laid down to lawn and paths and driveway. The house has slated roof, red sandstone foundation, black walnut finish throughout although many times now shown in white paint, handsome wains and ceilings, parquetry and polished floors, six open fireplaces, a secretly placed combination lock large fireproof safe, and shades in all windows; there are four corner rooms on each of its three floors—the first floor having in addition to these four corner rooms a broad hall, a roomy vestibule with tile floor, a broad piazza with red tile floor—recently laid at a cost of one thousand dollars, a rear vine-covered balcony, a large kitchen—linoleum covered floor, built in ice chest and refrigerator—marble lined, and an abundance of closets; the second floor having in addition to the four corner rooms (master's chambers) a broad centre hall or music room, a rear hall and stairway, a smaller corner room, sewing room, two bath rooms, linen closet and unusual closet conveniences; the third floor having in addition to the four corner rooms a large square hall in centre, a billiard room, den, large cedar closet, trunk and storeroom, a bath room and much closet room; the basement has a roomy and bright and light laundry—with soapstone tubs and bricked-in copper boiler and Arlington Improved range, a bright and light workshop, tool room, toilet room, preserve closet, vegetable cellar, flower cellar, and bricked-in coal bin; the house is heated throughout by a Scannell & Wholey boiler plant—equal to any conditions of the weather, and all water is heated by Rapid automatic water heater. The stable building is in strict keeping with the residence—this is true from the standpoint of architecture and interior finish and arrangement; the driveway from Andover street leads direct to the very spacious coach house (garage) floor—leading from which is a roomy wash stand and harness or supply room—with attached storage room, and toilet room, and coachman's office, the runway from the coach house (garage) floor to the stable beneath is gradual and at an easy grade; the stable floor beneath the coach house (garage) floor is also very spacious and roomy, is now set off for five horses, has a wide paved centre floor, men's lounging room, and driveway entrance direct from East Merrimack street; the basement floor, beneath the stable floor is also very spacious and roomy and high posted and light, has paved floor, the runway from stable floor to the basement beneath is gradual and at an easy grade, and there is a driveway entrance direct from East Merrimack street. Adjoining the stable building on the east side is the coachman's suite (cottages) comprising four rooms and two halls and bath room and toilet room and pantry and open fireplace—numbered 571 East Merrimack street; the stable and coachman's collage have Georgia pine finish throughout and are thoroughly heated throughout by an Ingalls & Kenrick steam plant. The land has a total area of 23700 sq. ft. with a frontage of one hundred feet on Andover street and a frontage slightly more than one hundred feet on East Merrimack street—and is two hundred and fifty feet between streets. The purchaser of this estate must deposit with or satisfactorily secure to the auctioneers one thousand dollars, just the moment the property is struck off. The house will be open for exhibition the two days next preceding the day of sale—or before this date by appointment made with the office of the auctioneer.

CHARLES J. WIER, Attorney.

NEWS OF THE DAY

IN POLICE COURT

A sweet tooth is all right in its place. Many men ascribe their present happy marital state to their ability in years gone by to choose for Milady the kind of hot buns and other sweets which most appeal to her, but John H. Callahan—who gives his home as Cambridge—will probably never evince the slightest interest in candy in future. John was found guilty of stealing several boxes of chocolates from the Boston and Maine railroad at today's session of police court, and drew down a sentence of six months in the house of correction.

According to the testimony given by Patrolman John Lynch, he saw Callahan and another young man attempting to steal a ride to the Hub via the "blind baggage" route one evening recently. Callahan was carrying a bundle and when approached by the officer both young men tried to make a quick exit. The unknown young man got away but Callahan dove under an outward bound Boston train at the Mid-dlesex street station, and after a brief scuffle the policeman emerged with his prisoner—also the bundle, which was found to contain several boxes of choice confectionery.

Several railroad men testified that the candy had been stolen from a freight train which had stopped in the yards for a few moments shortly before Callahan was arrested, and although Callahan strenuously denied all knowledge of the affair, Judge Fisher was of the opinion that the young man and his pal had been responsible for the disappearance of the candy and ordered him sentenced as aforesaid.

The Cape to Cairo railway in Africa when completed will be 7074 miles in length, the longest single line of railway in the world.

OBJECTS TO PEACE PACTVermont Republican Senator Frankly Outlines His Objections in Conference

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Senator Page, republican, Vermont, frankly outlined his objections to the peace treaty to President Wilson at the White House today and told the president he would not approve it. Beyond this statement, Senator Page would not discuss the conference.

Senator Sterling of South Dakota, another White House caller, said neither he nor the president mentioned the Shantung settlement. They discussed Article X of the League of Nations covenant referring to protection of nations against "external aggression" and the clause relating to the withdrawal of nations from the league.

Conferences with republican senators on the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant, were continued today by President Wilson. Senators on the visiting list were Page, Vermont; Sterling, South Dakota; McLean, Connecticut; and Newberry, Mich.

The president's condition continued to improve today and it is expected that in a few days he will have entirely recovered from intestinal trouble. He is still weak and held conferences today in his study in the White House, instead of the executive offices.

Unable to Convert Japanese

Inquiry at the White House today concerning published reports that the Shantung provision of the peace treaty was President Wilson's personal solution of the problem, brought only the statement that no comment would be made.

Senators who have discussed the Shantung provision with the president stated, however, that they had not been given to understand that he proposed the Shantung provision, but that he had found himself unable to convert the Japanese delegates to any other view.

TO SIGN TREATIES WITH BULGARIA AND TURKEY

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The United States will sign the treaties with Bulgaria and Turkey, it was announced today, at the state department.

Although the United States never has been actually at war with Bulgaria and Turkey it will sign the treaties to show its concurrence in the terms imposed upon these allies by Germany and Austria. Like those with the Teutonic powers, the treaties change boundary lines and create new nations, some of which particularly Armenia, probably will ask that the United States act as mandatory for them under the League of Nations covenant.

The announcement today was the first that the United States would be party to the treaties. A dispatch last night from Paris said Premier Venizelos of Greece, has cabled President Wilson asking whether the United States would sign. Greece is particularly interested in the disposition of western Thrace, which it desires to take away from Bulgaria. The American delegates at Paris were said to be unwilling to deprive Bulgaria of access to the Aegean sea.

DENIAL BY JAPAN ON SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT

PARIS, July 23.—The Japanese delegation to the peace conference today issued a denial of assertions that the Shantung settlement in the German peace treaty was in exchange for the withdrawal of the Japanese clause in the League of Nations covenant.

Judge Chatfield's decision was based upon testimony he heard recently in New Haven, where he sat in the place of Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas, of Connecticut.

Minery, backed by the Connecticut liquor men in order to test the validity of the law, opened a saloon in Meriden. He was arraigned before Judge Chatfield.

NEW POLLING PLACE IN CENTRALVILLE

When the state primaries are held Sept. 23 the voters of Precinct 3 of ward 6 will vote in the basement of the Greenhalge school, rather than in the polling booth in Lakeview avenue near Emmett street, that has long been the stamping ground of this district. A number of voters of the district, headed by Thomas P. Garvey, petitioned the municipal council to have the polling place changed to the schoolhouse owing to the dampness of the old polling booth and its general unattractive appearance. A hearing was held on the matter a week ago and Commissioners Donnelly and Marchand announced today that the petition would be granted.

"A Jolly Good Fellow"

We all wear chains of habit; we are either the slaves of bad habits that "swifter our lives later on, or we are fettered to the habits of good conduct that reward us with health and comfort and with wealth, too. If we have the savings habit. Systematic savings will not only assist you wonderfully in building for the future, but it will put your daily life on a more efficient basis. It will put a check on your extravagance if nothing more. "For he's a jolly good fellow" should be set to slow music and played as a dirge. What we all need is the respect of the world; we can't anyone of us get along without it, and if you save your money you can command respect.—National City Bank, Chelsea.

We old ones who have "come through" have known many "a jolly good fellow"—always the good fellow to others, but far too often careless of his own future, improvident. He learned too late "The Mill will never grind with the Water that has passed."

Project Not Practical

Declaring that the inclusion of a swimming pool in the proposed memorial auditorium would be impractical and that the cost of its construction in such a building would enable the city to build three pools in various parts of the city, the Lowell Memorial Auditorium commission, through its chairman, John H. Harrington, told a number of representatives of women's organizations of the city yesterday afternoon that the commission favored a swimming pool for the girls and women of the city, but that the auditorium was decidedly not the place to locate it.

In support of their petition that a pool with shower baths and other corollary equipment be placed in the basement of the proposed building, representatives of the Community Service Commission.

FORD PREVENTED SON
FROM ENLISTING

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 23.—According to the testimony of Henry Ford today his son, Edsel, wished to go to war, but was dissuaded by his father.

Ford's own attorney, Alfred Lucking, brought up the subject of the exemption of Edsel just before the conclusion of the manufacturer's testimony in his libel suit against the Chicago Tribune. He had been on the stand eight days.

"Will you state whether your son had become necessary to the work of your great factory when the United States entered the war, in order to relieve you of the detail of it?" asked Lucking.

"We have worked together all his life," said the witness.

"Had he reached a position where he was a great relief to you?"

"Yes, he is a great relief to me."

"In looking after war work?"

"Yes."

"He personally was willing to go to war?"

"Yes, he had many offers."

"You felt you needed him in the factory?"

"Yes."

"Was he offered commissions in the army, although he would stay right in the factory?"

"Yes."

"On war work?"

"Yes, but he declined them."

"Do you remember saying that you didn't care to see him camouflage; to wear a uniform and appear to be in the service, when he was actually attending to necessary work in the factory?"

"Yes."

"He thought we should sink our navy and disband our army," said the witness.

"Yes, I think I did."

"He was more useful to you in the factory?"

"Yes."

"The draft board disagreed with you?"

"I think so."

John R. Lee, for many years associated with the Ford Motor Co., testified to a conversation in which Edward Marshall interviewed Mr. Ford.

"I heard Mr. Ford say, with something of a shock, that the word 'murderer' should be placed on the breast of every soldier," the witness testified.

He confirmed many other remarks attributed to Ford by Marshall in his subsequent magazine article.

"He thought we should sink our navy and disband our army," said the witness.

TRAFFIC OFFICER SHIFTED

Traffic Officer Gilbert Sheridan, who for the past two years or more has been located at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets, has been shifted to the West Centralville beat, days, and Patrolman Swanwick, who has been patrolling around Merrimack square, days, has been assigned to the traffic job at Central and Merrimack streets.

Gov. Coolidge Urges Legislation To Appoint Committee To Investigate

BOSTON, July 23.—Governor Coolidge today recommended to the legislature the appointment of a committee of seven to investigate street railway problems in the state and report at a special session of the legislature in November. The proposal was outlined in a message to the house in which the governor called attention to the disturbed condition of street railway affairs, spoke of the increase in fares which he said had reached a point where they had become "prohibitive," and urged the need of relief for both the railways and the public.

ICE PLENTY AND CHEAP

Cheap Compared to Other

Bay State Cities, Lowell's

Ice Baroness Says

Despite the fact that this season has been a hot one so far and that the consumption of ice has been in excess of that of previous years, there will be no scarcity of ice in this city according to Miss Marina Gage, of the Daniel Gage Co. Miss Gage stated this morning that all the houses of the company were well filled last winter although there was not one inch of ice in the Merrimack river, the first time in 29 years, and that the supply is sufficient to last until next winter.

"The winter season has been so mild," said Miss Gage, "that we have been unable to harvest a crop on the river, but fortunately we were able to put in a good supply from the ponds in the vicinity of Lowell."

When questioned about the price of ice as compared with that of last year Miss Gage said that the company was forced to increase it because of the increased cost of labor and the high prices paid for the upkeep and the feeding of the horses. She said this year's ice crop although not larger than last year's cost a good deal more because it was all harvested on ponds. "We have increased our 30-pound casks from 10 to 15 cents and the 100-pound casks from 29 to 40 cents, but that is nothing as compared with Lawrence, where in spite of competition they are getting as high as 50 cents per hundred pounds of ice. Of course in the down-river city they did not harvest as large a crop as we did here, for they have not the pond facilities that we have around Lowell."

In concluding Miss Gage said that there are very few complaints on the price of ice in Lowell and that the residents of this city are paying less for their ice than the residents of any other city in the commonwealth.

Each company of the club will be represented by a team and although the lineups at present are only tentative at best, several companies have a pretty fair idea of the ultimate composition of the nine. Differentiating names other than company letters will be chosen and these, together with lineups, umpires and official scorers will be announced later.

The call has gone out for general practice tomorrow evening on the school grounds at 7.30 o'clock and it is the wish of the executives that every player be on hand at that hour. The league officials will brook no discontent or useless umpire bailing once the games get underway and the coaches and trainers are particularly anxious that all players start the season in good condition. No one will be carried on the pay roll who does not deliver the goods.

Boston Publishers Grant Demands—$45 For Deskmen, $38 For Reporters

BOSTON, July 23.—The Boston Newspaper Publishers association agreed yesterday to grant the demands of the News Writers union for a minimum wage scale of $45 per week for rewrite men and copy readers, $35 for reporters and staff photographers and $30 for district men. Members of the union who receive more than the minimum wage will be given "proportionate increases." The scale is retroactive to June 1.

Members of the union who have been employed by a daily newspaper for at least three years are entitled to the new wage. Seven Boston newspapers are represented in the Publishers association.

The above announcement was made by William O'Connor, president of the News Writers union last night. No statement could be obtained from the publishers. It was said, however, that they had agreed to the adoption of a minimum scale, but that the agreement did not involve a recognition of the union.

BIG CHIEF TELLS

How One-One Built a Wickiup

BY CHIEF TAHAN

Of Kiowa Indian Tribe.

Ah! I thought there was some one at the door, for the chief's ears are as wide as ever. Why, my boy, you seem to be all alone this time and I didn't expect anyone this rainy night, for the Thunder-bird has split a whole lot of water out of the lake on his back as we Indians used to say when it was raining hard.

Sit right down there on that old panther skin by the fire and you'll soon be dry and warm. I'm mighty glad you came to see the chief tonight, for he was just thinking of the long ago when he was a boy—when there was one in the tribe that none of the others seemed to understand. He was just as fine and brave as any of them, but, somehow, he appeared to be different from all of the other boys. He hardly ever joined in the games and sports, and he came to believe that the other fellows didn't like him. He was alone most of the time, and because of that they gave him a nickname. They called him Pagopago. That means One-one in our language—just because he was by himself so much.

One day One-one happened to come along in the woods where the others were playing. They had just found a hornet's nest and were stirring it up by shooting their arrows into it. Those hornets went at One-one furiously. But instead of running away which

Despite its scope, Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound, with costs at minimum.

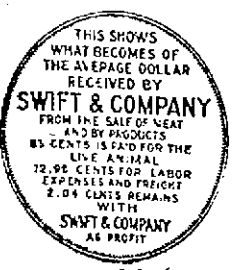

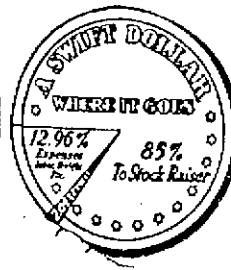

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar".
It will interest you.

would cause the other fellows to laugh at him, he calmly wrapped his robe around him and walked slowly away, and they didn't laugh. He went away off down the creek where he got a handful of clay, plastered it over the lumps the hornets had made on his face and sat down to wait for them to heal; for clay was one of the things which the Medicine Man used to cure stings and snake bites.

The boy was pretty lonesome as he sat there watching an eagle floating around in the sky, and how he did wish that he was a man so that he could wear an eagle feather war bonnet—like the chief's. Suddenly there was a roll of thunder in the west. A hailstorm was coming and it would catch him before he got home. He jumped up and ran into the bush where he hustled around until he found a couple of bushes a little taller than himself and about four feet apart. He took hold of first one bush then the other near their tops, bent them till their tops met. Then he twisted the small branches of the bushes together until they held. With his knife he cut a half a dozen bushes about the size of the others, sharpened the butt ends, stuck them into the ground so that with the other two they formed a circle about four feet across. He bent them over like the other two, one after another and bound all of their tops together. That was the framework of his wickiup.

Working like a beaver he cut small bushes, piled them on the top and around the sides of the frame, spread his robe over it all as far as it would go, tied the corners down to the poles and crawled inside before the hailstones began to beat down. He had seen his mother do that ever since he could remember and, of course, knew just how. But I've often thought that if One-one had lived here and belonged to a troop of Boy Scouts, he wouldn't have been lonesome, and he wouldn't have made a wickiup—except just for fun.

This is how One-one began to build the forest shelter which kept the hailstones off.

BODY RECOVERED

The body of Alexandre Bedard, who drowned in the Pawtucket canal yesterday afternoon, was recovered last evening by Undertaker Joseph Albert and removed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustin Bedard, 308 Alken street. Bedard fell into the water while watching some of his companions swim, and not knowing how to swim, he drowned before assistance reached him. Deceased was 17 years of age and is survived by his parents, three brothers, Napoleon, Rosario and Gerard, and three sisters, Maria, Angelina and Blanche.

PLAN LONG AIR FLIGHT

Huge Airplane Will Cover
Total of 7805 Miles Passing Over 31 States

The most pretentious and extended flight yet planned by the air service of the United States army—a flight which will, if successful, completely rim the country from seaboard to seaboard and from the Canadian line to the gulf—has been announced as being contemplated by Lieut. Col. R. S. Hartz, junior military aviator, commanding officer of Bolling field, Washington, D. C., with the sanction of the director of military aeronautics.

The date of starting is not known, but many facts and figures incident to the flight already have been brought to light and they are of the utmost interest. The airplane to be used is a United States Martin bomber, but slightly less in size than the NC-4 and the mileage planned will total approximately 7805 miles, segregated into relays as follows:

Washington, D. C., to Miami, Fla., 1120 miles.
Miami to San Antonio, Tex., 1140 miles.
San Antonio to San Diego, Cal., 1120 miles.
San Diego to Seattle, Wash., 1170 miles.
Seattle to Duluth, Minn., 1375 miles.
Duluth to Augusta, Me., 1345 miles.
Augusta to Washington, D. C., 535 miles.

Total, 7805 miles.

Of course the flight will not be direct between the cities named in the itinerary, but will vary according to considerations and demands to be determined by Col. Hartz. The huge bomber will pass over 31 states and over or near 95 cities. Thirty-six mountain ranges and peaks, nine water sheds, 48 oceans, gulfs, seas, bays and lakes, and 83 rivers will be some of the other geographical landmarks passed over.

The state of Florida will have opportunity to see the voyager over an extent of 338 miles; 900 miles of California will be covered, 765 miles of Texas, 535 miles of Montana, 333 miles of Washington, 344 miles of New York and the other states in diminishing distances down to the District of Columbia, only 10 miles of which will be traversed. Massachusetts is way down in the list with 65 miles.

Although little entire trip will be more or less hazardous, the flights over mountains and wild, uninhabited sections will be fraught with the greatest dangers. Practically every important range in the country will be passed, including the Big Horn, Burro, Cascade, Coast Range, Coeur d'Alene, Cooke Range, Franklin and Gila ranges, McCloud, Mission, the Rockies, St. Helena Range, San Jacinto and Yalisco.

The rivers to be flown over include: Androscooggin, Blackstone, Charles, Chesapeake, Clark, Colorado, Columbia, Connecticut, Delaware, Erie canal, Grand, Merrimack, Missouri, Mississippi, Potomac, Rappahannock, Raritan, Roanoke, Saco, Salmon, Savannah, Susquehanna, Yellowstone and River of the North.

Of the larger cities to see the plane are New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Spokane, Providence, Rochester, Seattle, Savannah, Cleveland, Boston, Detroit, Duluth, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Portland, Ore., and Portland, Me.

The flight is being planned for the interest of recruiting, charting of routes and the locating of landing fields, but aside from these duties history will be in the making every mile of the trip and if it goes through according to schedule will be an epoch marking event.

STRIKE FOR MORE FOOD

2500 Military Prisoners
at Leavenworth Attack Guards

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 22.—

Twenty-five hundred military prisoners in the disciplinary barracks at the federal prison went on strike yesterday and resisted attempts of the guards to force them to work. Col. Frederick Rice, in command of the barracks, received a committee of 12 prisoners, who asked that the men be given shorter hours and more to eat. When the men were ordered from their cells yesterday virtually all of them refused and guards who later attempted to force the men from their cells were beaten back.

The 12 prisoners who were given a hearing before Col. Rice were largely foreign-born radicals, prison officials said. They were appointed at a secret meeting held Saturday afternoon. Col. Rice said he would communicate the men's demands to Washington last night.

The men involved in the strike are all military prisoners, many of them sentenced in France.

SAYS STREET CARS MAY SOON BE THING OF PAST

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Municipal ownership of street railways yesterday received for the first time the approval of a witness appearing before the federal electric railways commission. Samuel R. Hertrick of New York, who said his banking firm had financed about 50 street railway properties, including those in Buffalo, New Orleans, Memphis and Birmingham, declared his belief that traction properties owned by a municipality would be operated efficiently and would not be subject to the political and other ordeals ordinarily ascribed to that form of management.

Mr. Hertrick agreed with John E. Hedges, receiver for the New York Railways Co., and J. K. Newman, representing traction interests in New Orleans, St. Louis and other cities, who also were heard, that unless something was done quickly, preferably increases in rates for temporary relief, the plight of the street railways throughout the country would be serious. Mr. Hedges said that the companies might "go out" entirely and cease to be a part of community life.

Homers L. Ferguson, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, expressed the opinion that the financial situation of the street railways was the most acute internal problem now facing the country. The present need, he said, was an increased fare.

Asked how long increased wages

might be expected to continue, Mr. Ferguson said he believed the wage level would not fall for years.

John J. Stanley, president of the Cleveland Railway Co., described the service-at-cost plan originating there, which has received much attention from the commission.

REOPEN TROLLEY MEN'S WAGE CASE

On the ground that changed conditions make higher compensation necessary, the Bay State Street Railway Co. conductors and motormen and other union employees will have their wage case reopened by the national war labor board. Examiner Charlton Osburn, representing the board, will hold a hearing in Boston, Saturday, July 26. He will listen to testimony and take whatever other evidence is offered and report to the war labor board.

On December 3d, 1918, by a retroactive decree of the war labor board, the maximum wage of conductors and motormen was increased as of October 22, 1918 from 40 cents to 45 cents an hour and a proportionate increase was also granted to miscellaneous union employees, whose minimum wage was established at 42½¢ an hour.

The public trustees and the employees have agreed to abide by the decision of the board.

James L. Doherty, of Springfield, has been agreed upon by Samuel H. Pillsbury, representing the company, and James H. Vahey, counsel for the Car-men's union, as the third arbitrator in the dispute between the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company and its employees relative to the use of the Rooke register.

It is anticipated that the arbitration proceedings will begin immediately.

COMMISSION GRANTS MINOR LICENSES

The following minor licenses were granted by the license commission at its regular meeting last evening:

To sell ice cream on the Lord's day, Leo Turczanski, 417 Adams street, Mrs. Della McLaughlin, 53 Fremont street, Charles T. Whitney, 519 Middlesex street, Thomas H. Riley, 69 Exeter street, Blanche E. Potner, 265 Mammoth road; auctioneer, Arthur J. Brooks, 282 High street; junk dealers, George A. Welch, 67 Leverett street, A. J. Harris Co., Tanner street; motor bus, Patrick Keegan, 467 Mammoth road.

WESTFORD NURSE RESIGNS

Miss Agnes Weir, public health nurse for the town of Westford, has resigned her position and Miss Eva M. Lord of Forge Village has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Miss Lord is a graduate of the Framingham hospital. She was district nurse in East Jeffrey and Westboro and has recently returned from 13 months' service at base hospital 66 in France.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU A SUCCESS HERE

J. B. Densmore, federal director general of the United States employment service, paid a flying visit to the Lowell United States employment bureau late yesterday afternoon, and after a brief conference with Mayor Thompson, representatives of the board of trade, and community labor board officials announced that he was much pleased with the results achieved by the local office, and gave his assurance that the bureau would be continued.

Director Densmore was formerly solicitor general of the United States department of labor, and was responsible for the inception of the United States employment service in its present form in January, 1918, when he was requested by President Wilson to take a hand in the forming of the organization.

That the work of the local bureau has been extremely commendable is proven by the fact that since its inception in August, 1918, approximately 5500 people have been placed in profitable positions, including soldiers, sailors and other war workers. Lowell is now the only city in Massachusetts, with the exception of Boston, which has an employment bureau supported by the federal government.

Others present at the conference were Edward F. McGrady, assistant federal director of the United States employment service of Massachusetts; Fred N. Wier, chairman of the community labor board; Mrs. Annie Reagan, John O'Donoghue, president of the board of trade, and John J. O'Rourke, secretary of the board.

NO MORE "EATS" AT WAVERLY HOTEL

The Waverly hotel, one of the oldest and best known hostilities in Lowell, has gone out of business. The Ervin E. Smith Co. bought the building some time ago and will take possession about Sept. 1. The new owners plan extensive alterations necessary for the accommodation of their business. The company's present place of business is across the street from the hotel.

The Waverly always had the reputation as a good "eating" house. Its steaks, chops, chickens, lobsters, etc., were second to none in the country and the hotel was well patronized by autoists. The dining rooms and grill room were closed about two weeks ago, much to the disappointment of many, especially those who enjoyed the excellent lunch served every day at noon, except Sunday. It was a 40 cent lunch and strangers, travelers and others were often heard to say that it could not be duplicated anywhere in New England for less than 60 or 70 cents.

The old timers remember the Waverly hotel "way back in Jack Derby's time when it had a reputation for game dinners. Later on the late Owen Carney turned his attention from horseshoeing to hotel-keeping and developed into a very progressive hotel man. He probably spent more money on the building than all of its temporary owners. He was responsible for the grill room, rathskeller and other improvements. But under all managements and up until its dining rooms were closed the hotel maintained its reputation for good meals and good service. The hotel was never more successful than under its last management.

WILL NOT RECEIVE

BONUS UNTIL AUG. 1

The Lowell men who saw service in the world war and who are entitled to the $100 bonus voted them by the Massachusetts legislature will not receive their money until the first of August, at least. Payment will be made by check, sent from the state treasurer's office, but inasmuch as $20,000,000 will have to be distributed and various details relative to the discharge, place and length of residence, etc., of each and every applicant for the gratuity must be verified, it is clearly evident that considerable time will be taken up before the checks can be put into the mail. The checks have already been prepared and are drawn on the National Shawmut bank of Boston. No less than 200,000 specially designed checks will be needed to give every service man his rightful due.

ELECTION OFFICERS

The following election officers were appointed at a recent meeting of the selectmen for the town of Billerica:

Precinct 1: Warden, Michael H. McElligott; deputy warden, Charles E. Scott; clerk, Charles A. Wright; deputy clerk, Herbert A. King; inspectors, Philip B. Dolan, Everett S. Bull; deputy inspectors, Frank I. Day, D. Fred Reardon.

Precinct 2: Warden, Frederick G. Brown; deputy warden, Charles H. Bailey; clerk, Dennis J. Mahoney; deputy clerk, Timothy J. McCarthy, Jr.; inspectors, Frank E. Walker and Edward R. Costello; deputy inspectors, John J. Ritchie and John R. Higgins.

The jury list was revised in accordance with the state laws.

WITH THE LEGISLATORS ON BEACON HILL

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 23.—Practically all of the two legislative sessions in the senate yesterday were devoted to discussions, more or less relevant, of various aspects of the street railway situation.

No final action was taken on any of the bills, the general five cent fare bill being put over until tomorrow; the Cavanagh public manager bill was referred to the committee on ways and means, and the Eastern Massachusetts bill was sent back to the committee on bills in third reading for consideration of the several amendments adopted.

By far the most significant action of the senate today lay in its adopting amendments in each case providing that any money loaned by the commonwealth for the rehabilitation of any company shall be a first lien upon its property. This means, in effect, that the money must be returned to the commonwealth before any bonds of the company may be paid off, or any stock redeemed.

To the Eastern Massachusetts bill there was also added an amendment providing that it shall take effect only in the event that it is accepted at the next state election by the voters of the several cities and towns in which the company operates.

During the debate Senator John E. Beck of Chelsea took occasion to criticize the senate for considering, at this late stage of the session, legislation of such vital importance to the car-riding public without making any effort either to ascertain or to accomplish the desires of that public. "The legislation which you have been considering today," he said, "can be of benefit only to the stockholders in these companies. The five cent fare is of course an attractive bait, but it cannot catch me or anyone else who is at all familiar with the situation and who is desirous of dealing with it from the standpoint of the car riders. If our transportation system must break down, let it break, rather than attempt to save it by the passage of legislation such as this which cannot possibly be of any benefit to the car riders. It's about time we stopped playing to the galleries; let us give the people an opportunity to discuss this matter and decide what they deem to be best, and then next year we can come up here and pass the right kind of legislation. Let us not, in these moments when we are tired of sitting here and the people are tired of having us here, pass legislation which is nothing but political bunk. That's all it is—bunk."

School Teachers' Pay
The senate refused to exempt towns having a valuation of less than $2,000,000 from the law requiring that public school teachers shall be paid not less than $550 per year. At present towns having a valuation of less than $1,000,000 are exempted, and Senator Tarbell sought to have the exemption extended to include those with the larger valuation. Senator Churchill of Amherst opposed the motion, contending that children attending school in the smaller towns of the state are fully entitled to obtain their instruction from normal school graduates, and teachers of that class will not accept appointments, especially in the remote districts, for less than the amount required by law. Senator Tarbell retorted that some of the smaller towns cannot afford to pay so high a

Itress Committee

Senator Cavanagh made an unsuccessful attempt to revive the order, rejected yesterday, providing for the appointment of a recess committee of 31 members to consolidate the general laws, stating that if he were allowed to do so he would present an order eliminating the provision of the previous order, that each member of the committee shall be paid $750 for his services. Objection by Senator Weston of Newton prevented consideration of the order in the senate, but it was rumored that tomorrow Representative Essex S. Abbott of Haverhill will present in the house an order providing for an unpaid recess committee of 31 members for the same purpose. The house passed through all its readings, under suspension of the rules, a bill authorizing cities and towns to lease public buildings or parts of such buildings to posts of the American Legion.

In the house the ways and means committee reported "ought to pass" on the bill providing that $4,000,000 of the proceeds of the income tax shall be used as a state school fund, for the purpose of equalizing educational opportunities of children in all parts of the state. The democratic members of the committee, Messrs. Mitchell of Springfield, Fitzgerald and Donovan of Boston, dissent.

MORE ARRESTS FOR I.W.W. DEPORTATIONS

BISBEE, Ariz., July 23.—With the arrest of 44 more citizens of the Warren district yesterday on charges of kidnapping in connection with the deportation of 1100 I.W.W. in July, 1917, a total of 165 arrests has been made in two days. The defendants were released on $2000 bonds each. Two motion picture men were busy about the police court and city streets where the defendants gathered. Stores, offices and even banks closed while the films were taken. Miners in overalls mingled with

The Buildings Danced Around Him

Mr. W. H. Lincoln of Durfield, Mass., suffered for 10 years with catarrh. He was seized with severe dizzy spells when the buildings seemed to dance around him, and he could hardly see. He took cold easily and was bothered with throat trouble. Coughing and constantly spitting up mucus added to his discomfort. Nothing he took seemed to help him. Then a neighbor told him of Goldine. He tried it. Now he is telling about it. Ask him if it helped him. Ask Mr. E. H. Sanderson if Goldine helped him when he had shingles. Wm. Maley tried GOLDINE for indigestion and dizzy spells, ask him what he thinks of it. Remember, GOLDINE is sold in Lowell by Carter & Sherburne, P. H. Butler & Co., W. P. Caisse, Jr., Fred Howard, Wm. R. Kiernan, Frank B. McNabb, Wm. H. Noonan, R. F. Webster, Frye & Crawford Co. It is also sold by Roland G. Wright in Billerica, John S. Wentwood in Chelmsford, Conant & Co. in Littleton, Edward A. Woodside in Wilmington and dealers in Ayer, Westford, Dracut, Tewksbury and other towns. If your dealer does not carry GOLDINE in stock, have him secure it through the Lawrence Drug Co.

316,554 DISCHARGED BY NAVY SINCE NOV. 11

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Demobilization of the navy is progressing satisfactorily, according to a navy department announcement today. A total of 316,554 enlisted men has been discharged since the armistice was signed of whom 94,306 were enlisted in the regular service and 222,248 were members of the reserve force who were released to inactive duty, subject to call. More than 22,500 reserve officers have been returned to civil life and 7124 still are on duty.

There still are 7000 enlisted men of the reserve force on duty, most of them aboard transports. They will be released as rapidly as recruits can be obtained to take their places. It is expected all of the reserve officers and men remaining in the service will be released within two months.

Recruiting now is more encouraging, the rate of new enlistments being about 5000 monthly. Both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets are still short handed, however.

Oppose Pool in Auditorium

Vice club, the Y.W.C.A., the Middlesex Women's club, the League of Catholic Women and the Lowell Guild appeared before the commission in the mayor's reception room and presented their arguments. Those present, in addition to members of the commission, included ed Mrs. W. L. Robertson, Miss Winifred Loughbridge and Miss Catherine Cronin of the Community Service club; Mrs. H. K. Boardman, Middlesex Women's club and Lowell Guild, Miss Alice T. Lee, League of Catholic Women and Miss Helen W. Barnes, of the Y.W.C.A.

The petitioners said that they represented at least 6000 women and that the only pool to which Lowell women have entrance is that at Rogers hall. About 100 enjoy this pool daily, but this number is but a fraction of those who would like to enjoy other pools.

The commission said that it was deeply cognizant of the desirability of a swimming pool for the women of the city, but that a pool constructed in the basement of the proposed auditorium would probably be bereft of sunlight and therefore unsanitary. The whole affair was a matter of dollars and cents, Chairman Harrington said, and inasmuch as the $1,000,000 appropriated for the building was really worth today what $500,000 was worth ten years ago, the commission had decided to keep down the size of the structure as much as possible and that it was doubtful if the building would be as large as originally anticipated.

Mrs. W. L. Robertson of the Community Service club was the first speaker and she emphasized the fact that Lowell was an industrial city in her plea for a swimming pool. Not only did those interested in the project believe that there should be a swimming pool with shower baths, etc., provided for the women of the city, she said, but they also believed that a place should be provided where women and girls could be given instruction in hygiene. She broached the matter of placing a woman on the auditorium commission. Chairman Harrington replied that the law provides for men only on the commission, but that it might be well to have a woman on the board of trustees appointed after the building is completed.

Miss Catherine Cronin, also of the Community Service club, said that the pool should be 60 by 20 feet with margins of five or six feet on either side. Shower baths and dressing rooms should also be provided, she thought.

Miss Alice T. Lee, representing the League of Catholic Women, stated that she had not made a thorough study of the project, but that she strongly favored the including of a pool in the auditorium building.

Miss Helen W. Barnes, president of the Y.W.C.A., said that Lowell was greatly in need of a swimming pool for its girls and women and thought the auditorium would afford a good opportunity for the erection of one.

Mayor Thompson believed that the cost of such a pool with its plumbing and heating would be about $50,000. He quoted the opinion of architects to the effect that no swimming pool should be constructed in the basement of a building.

Mrs. Harry K. Boardman of the Middlesex Women's club wanted to know if the commission had considered baths in the auditorium for men. Chairman Harrington replied that baths of no kind for men or women had been considered. Mrs. Boardman was in favor of baths for everybody. In response to a query from Walter L. Parker, a member of the commission, she said that she did believe the auditorium a proper place for a swimming pool and that it should be a centre for such things.

Mayor Thompson's estimate of $50,000 for the pool and necessary fixtures was too high, in the opinion of Miss Winifred Loughbridge, executive secretary of the Community Service club; she believed that $25,000 would be enough. Miss Cronin also thought that this amount would be sufficient. She quoted costs of running such a pool elsewhere.

After various questions had been asked by members of the commission, Chairman Harrington said he felt it his duty to enlighten the ladies on the seriousness of the situation. In the first place, he said, it is doubtful whether the commission has authority under the legislative act to build a swimming pool in connection with the auditorium. That matter would have to be referred to the city solicitor.

"Assuming that we had the right and we did build the swimming pool," continued the chairman, "there is no assurance that the city government would operate it after it had been built, as this would be a very expensive project. Water would have to be kept hot and the general cost of maintenance would be considerable."

"In the second place, the combination of a swimming pool and the auditorium is not desirable. For the added expense necessary to include a pool in the proposed building, we could get three bath houses three times as large, better and more sanitary. The construction of an auditorium building is heavy; the construction necessary for a bath house is light. It could be built more cheaply as a separate building. It could be built on cheaper land."

"If a swimming pool were included in the auditorium building, it would have to be put in the basement of the wing at the East Merrimack street and Brown street corner. The space there would be about one-third what is really necessary. It would be impossible for the sunlight to get in and sanitary engineers agree that sunlight coming through a glass roof should sterilize the water in a swimming pool."

"The architect says there would be danger of water from the pool seeping into the foundation which is of sand and gravel. The result would be expansion in frosty weather. The only way to overcome this would be to put down the foundation so deep that we might find ourselves in the same box as the builders of another local structure who had to exceed their most liberal estimates by $50,000 in order to get in a foundation."

"For the cost of putting a swimming pool in the auditorium, three bath houses could be distributed throughout the city, and I think that is a phase of the matter, which should be given consideration. The bath houses are needed in all parts of the city, not merely one."

"You must remember that $1,000,000 today is worth just about what $500,000 was worth ten years ago. And if we can't build the auditorium for $1,000,000, we'll not build it at all. There would really be no space under the auditorium proper for the pool. In the wing of the building to be known as Liberty hall we are going to have a dance hall and any moisture under this would be bad for a finished hardwood floor. Of course, we could make it water-proof and weather-proof, but the commission believes the size of the structure should be kept down."

And, then, we must have room to store the seats taken from the dance hall.

"We must provide for the river banks, balustrade, etc. There may be some question as to whether we can put in an organ on the money we have but if it comes to a question of an organ or a bath house, I'll vote for an organ. We must take into consideration the sinking of the building in warm weather, following cold spells, and earth disturbances."

"The desirability of a swimming pool for the women of the city is unquestioned, but it should be designed as such and not as part of another building. From the rough details of the plans already prepared, the building will not be quite as large as we originally anticipated, but it will seat 1000 people at least."

The conference concluded at 4.30 o'clock.

LOWELL AERIE TAKES IN 25 NEW MEMBERS

Lowell Aerie 223, F.O.E., met last evening at their hall in the Harrington building, Central street, and several candidates were initiated. The meeting was presided over by Worthy President David J. Hackett. The New Haven convention committee reported having engaged 45 rooms at the Taft hotel for the accommodation of Lowell members and their families. The convention will be held from Aug. 18 to 24, inclusive.

State Chaplain David J. Hackett and George F. Carey have returned from an official visit that included Palmer, Northampton, Pittsfield and North Adams and reported a very pleasant and interesting trip.

The cemetery committee, it was stated at the meeting, hopes to have the drawing for St. Joseph's cemetery monument in a very short time and says that the monument will be ready for dedication in October.

The exact number of candidates initiated at last evening's meeting was 25 and 18 applications were received. It was also announced that the open charter would close July 31.

HAWAIIAN UKELELE PLAYERS THREATEN TO ROUT AMERICAN JAZZ BAND

LONDON, July 11. (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The jazz band, which came to London with the American troops and since the armistice has held a high place in the affections of the revelers gathered here from all parts of the globe, is threatened by an invasion of Hawaiian ukelele players who have appeared in a Strand hotel. The crowds which nightly listen to their soft, soothing music are glad to be relieved of noisy, nerve-racking crash of the jazz. Another Hawaiian innovation is promised in the hula dance.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsin's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few dimes will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Adv.

ADVERTISING RESULTS

A scientific authority has declared that advertising makes an appeal to seven instincts of human nature. They are: (1) property, (2) power, (3) self preservation, (4) affection, (5) sentiment, (6) reputation, and (7) taste.

We can thus see that the art of advertising as it can be exerted in a daily paper plays to all the human instincts involving profit possibilities.

It is not extreme to say that no business can be so small as not to need or not to afford newspaper advertising. The Sun, for instance, can go over the matter with the small business man and figure out a service for him in advertising whose cost will be in proportion to the volume of business he can do. It goes without saying that no business exists whose manager would assert it was above the need of advertising. Advertising is the thing that keeps a big business in first place. Advertising most assuredly gives the greatest results to those who advertise most skillfully and in the best medium, which in Lowell is

STILL THE BOYCOTT

The people of Boston still show a disposition to boycott the L. road, as the patronage seems to have fallen off very considerably since the adoption of the 10 cent fare and still more so since the settlement of the strike. During the strike, thousands of people who formerly used the cars of the company changed to the railroad trains and the jitneys, and it appears that they are now using these in preference to the L. cars as a protest against the 10 cent fare.

AUDITOR PAIGE'S EXIT

The lightning changes at city hall yesterday, by which two vacancies were promptly filled, came as a surprise to the community. The city loses an excellent official in the resignation of Charles D. Paige, for 14 years city auditor and a most capable and accomplished expert in dealing with municipal finances. His successor, J. Joseph Hennessy, will find it difficult to measure up to the high standard of efficiency set by Mr. Paige; but experience teaches. Mr. Hennessy has the advantage of being a lawyer if he is not so expert at figures. As for George P. Toye, the new private secretary to Mayor Thompson, there is no doubt that he will make an ideal official.

THE CHICAGO TRAGEDY

That frightful tragedy at Chicago shows the dangers of the new art of aviation. It should be placed under government control until further advanced towards perfection. The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company is not in the aviation business, but appears to have had the balloon perhaps for advertising purposes. In future, aviators should be required to have a license and their craft should be subject to government inspection by experts before being put into service. Moreover, strict rules to govern the movement of air craft over cities must be established in the interests of public safety.

SOLDIERS' INSURANCE

In some quarters, much surprise is felt that at least three-fourths of the soldiers who served during the war have dropped their insurance. The reason is, that from their limited resources, they could not afford to maintain the insurance. It is to be regretted that this is the fact; but men who received only a dollar a day for their services and found it necessary to spend a great portion of that, could not have saved very much while in the service. On their return home, a very considerable number of them found it difficult to procure employment and this may explain why they dropped their insurance. We are satisfied they would all like to keep it up if they could afford to pay the premiums without leaving themselves short in meeting their living expenses.

TO DEFEND BORDER

The action of the Texas senate in appealing to congress for protection along the border against the guerrilla warfare carried on by Mexican marauders, is fully justified. Ever since 1875, Texas has been troubled with raids and outrages committed on the border. In order to avoid international trouble, the Texan authorities were requested to leave the matter to the federal government. Sometimes the protection was complete, but as soon as the federal troops were withdrawn, the trouble was resumed. The state of Texas should have full protection against this form of guerrilla warfare, and unless the federal authorities provide troops for that purpose, the Texans will be justified in using their own forces to repel the riotous Villistas and defend their property and their people. The time is not far distant when the Mexican question may have to be dealt with in a general way so that even the most unruly of the Mexicans will learn to respect American rights not only on the border but elsewhere.

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH

President Wilson has been ordered by his physician to rest up for a few days. Those who have followed the course of the president for the last year, realize that he has had a very strenuous life and the wonder is that he went through it all without a collapse. His work in Europe was even more trying than were his ordinary duties at the White House, for there he not only had to give his attention to prodigious and history-making problems of the peace conference, but he had also to devote a part of his time to his official duties as president of the United States and the transaction of the nation's business by wireless. Congressmen and senators who know how hard the president works in his office at the White House, have often wondered how he accomplishes so much with so little apparent difficulty. What would keep other men awake nights and drive them to the point of nervous prostration, he dispatches without travail and even in the midst of the greatest difficulties devolving upon him, he finds time for a drive or a few hours' practice on the golf links during which he shows no signs of worry or consciousness of the grave responsibilities resting on his shoulders. Perhaps it is this quality of taking things lightly that has enabled him to accomplish so much without injury to his health. But there is a limit to every man's capacity and it appears that President Wilson has been working near that extreme for some time past. For the future perhaps, he will have to be more careful and will have also to keep in mind the fact that he is not as young as he used to be.

BETRAYAL OF IRELAND

Again Premier Lloyd George has backed down upon his past pledges and again he has invented new and groundless excuses for so doing. There will be no settlement of the Irish question, he said, until Irishmen agree upon what they want. Translated into plainer terms, this means that all the rest of Ireland must agree with Sir Edward Carson, who is a tool of the government and of the old Tory party now dominating the coalition ministry. "Ireland is not one nation, but three nations in race, religion and temperament—everything constituting the fundamental conditions of a nation." That is George's manufactured excuse for not carrying out his pledges and for reversing majority rule in Ireland while respecting it in every other part of the empire. When it suited George's political fortunes, he threatened to resign if the program for home rule for Ireland were not advanced. Now he is playing a thoroughly contemptible game of politics by pandering to the Tory leaders, headed by Bonar Law and Sir Edward Carson. "Ireland is not a nation," says the British premier. Ireland was a nation and a leader in civilization for centuries before England emerged from barbarism sufficiently to be called a nation. When the Danes had overrun the greater part of Europe and for a time ravaged Ireland, it remained for Brian Boru, high king of Ireland, to break their power and drive them into the sea at the battle of Clontarf in 1014.

Ireland was a nation then and is so today; but unfortunately, England's policy has been to divide the Irish people in order to make easier their subjection. But the people are now as solidly united as ever were any people. Yet Lloyd George says they are divided.

Nobody opposes the national policy but the planted minions of England in Ulster, such as Carson and his followers, less than one-sixth of the population. Yet the Irish people are told in effect that unless they agree with these men who repudiate home rule in any form, the Irish question will not be settled.

That statement is so perfidiously false, treacherous and hypocritical, that it is enough to drive the people into a state of desperation.

It is hoped, however, they will still maintain their self control and keep up the agitation. George's words constitute a challenge to united and persistent action by the Irish race all over the world until justice is secured.

WHY WE DIE

(By the N. E. A.)

All of us at times feel fagged. "Just naturally worn out" is a term commonly applied to people who die before their time.

Let us spend three minutes with the scientists and learn all about the connection between death and the exhaustion of human energy.

Max Rubner, a great scientist, offers this theory of life and the cause of death:

Man is a power plant with a limited amount of fuel—energy. This energy used up, his engine stops. Life is the result of energy being produced by consumption of food, just as heat results from burning coal.

But all animals, man included, can produce only a fixed amount of energy; after that amount has been produced, death is a certainty. The batteries cannot be over-charged.

We can develop our physical resources and use them up normally—and die at the ripe age when we begin getting in the young folks' way. Or we can use them up fast—and die young.

Did you ever notice that lazy men generally are healthy and outlive the sprinters who burn themselves up?

From behind his whiskers, Rubner announced the results of a life study:

"For every pound weight of his body at maturity, the average man produces and consumes 362,000 calories of energy before he dies. Death comes when he has consumed that amount. Nothing that he can possibly do will make his body produce during adult life, more energy than the 362,000 calories; and nothing can possibly prevent his death when this amount of energy is produced."

Some men die before all their energy-fuel is completely converted into ashes. Others keep the fire going too hot, by overwork or dissipation, and burn themselves up before reaching the mellow age.

The automatic machine, by conserving our energies, enables us to crowd three times as much into our lifetime as grandfather had in his. Machinery is the greatest force for lengthening human life if we are content not to burn the whole forest at once.

You cannot cheat Nature. She has placed an absolute limit on the amount of energy you can expend. Make every calory count. The supply of life in your body is an exhaustible bank account.

When your grocer hands you out some stuff about the prospect that flour may be sold at a price even higher than at present, suppose you hand him these few facts. At the present time, the granaries of the United States have 96 billion bushels of grain in them. Last year, they had 34 million bushels. May 1, 1919, the nation's stock of flour was 7,255,000 barrels and May 1, 1918, the supply on hand was 5,092,000 barrels. Ancient such conditions, why should the price of flour continue high? Let the grocer explain.

Is Mexico in for a mopping? The Oklahoma National Guard said it could thoroughly do the job if given the authority, and now Gen. Leu Wood says if they gave him 40,000 troops he could do it. If the two Goliaths should unite, Mexico would be rather badly off.

When we read about some society woman being present at a ball wearing the most beautiful pearl car rings, we decide there is about as much credit coming to her for the feat as we usually extend to some fellow bragging about his sixth toe.

Men's Hats Too Small

A London milliner favors a change in the male headgear, as men's hats at present are undoubtedly the dullest things in life. She is welcome to the opinion, but her brothers will keep on wearing the same old kinds of felt and straw hats, which defy sun, wind, rain and snow and go appropriately with the unlovely suits. ### How to Grow Big

Start your day with a definite plan and carry it through. Say little each day and do more. Smile outside and radiate smiles, no matter how you may feel inside.

Always keep a brave front and carry a fighter's heart. Never admit failure.

Keep your mind clear and your heart clean. Be generous to a fault. It may sometimes hurt, but it will never harm.

Time given to the help and happiness of others is never wasted. Never learn to love money.

Put your confidences into your own heart. Then lock them up and throw the key away.

Learn to listen. Never divide your attention. If a thing is important enough for a part of your thought, it is important enough for all. When you concentrate, burn a hole into the thing at hand.

Be brief. Never steal time from another. Never hurt another's feelings. Be considerate.

Keep calm. Go slow, but keep going. Keep criticizing yourself. Take kindly suggestions kindly.

Never be afraid to carry a right thing through. Always be strong. Abolish idleness from your life. Use every minute. Keep thinking, planning, building.

You have ability which no one else in the world has. Use it to the highest and you know.

Bury every regret. Work and live in the now.

Fear no man. You are as big as you do—no bigger.

Eliminate worry. Go to sleep in peace, with happy thoughts.

Do at least one single helpful act every day that will mean special planning on your part. And then soon such acts will come about without planning.

Have an inward reverence for your body and keep it healthy.

Live each day as though it were to be the last.

Visions

There are hills too steep for our feet to climb. There are goals too far to gain. And in every breast there's a glorious dreamer.

The dreamer shall never attain. For the poet, idea with his songs unsung. And the artist at last grows faint. And he sinks to sleep and the grave must keep.

The pictures he's planned to paint. We never can finish the work of life. Nor live to our fullest here. We must carry away from his house of life.

The vision we've cherished dear. We dream fair dreams for the years to be. But the merchant and toiler, too. And the soldier brave, taken into the grave.

Some deeds they had hoped to do. Perhaps they sing at their sweetest now. These poets of yesterday. And he caught the themes of the golden dreams.

Which came from the far away. Perhaps the painters on canvas true. And paint the things of the visionings. That were theirs in the days gone by.

Oh, never we reach to our fullest height. And never we do our all. We must turn away, at the close of day.

When the tools from our fingers fall. But it isn't failure to hold a dream. That never on earth comes true. For the things of worth that we raise on earth.

Are reserved for our souls to do. —EDGAR A. GUEST.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I wonder if the managers of the Eastern Massachusetts and the carmen realize that in a little degree at least, the recent car strike resulted in a permanent loss of business. I have in mind a group of four factory workers here in Lowell one of whom owns a light weight auto. During the strike the car owner got into the habit of carrying three other workers with him. They knew he was a worker like themselves so they paid him 10 cents a ride. It was a better service than the trolleys could give them, they said, because they were called for in the morning and at night were let off at their door. When car service was resumed the four men said, "Why not let this arrangement continue? This is a good plan for all of us." And so it has continued. It costs the man with the car very little more to carry three besides himself than if he were the sole passenger. Besides this, he earns enough so that he can buy gasoline for his Sunday riding. The winter season may tell another story but winter is a long way off. We may have nicked faces again by then.

Following the announcement of his resignation from the office of city auditor yesterday, "Charlie" Paige was kept busy receiving the congratulations of hundreds of friends on the new position which he has accepted in Boston with the Noyes-Bulck Co. and in every instance his friends rejoiced with him on the greater opportunities he will have in his new field. Rarely has a city official given so much genuine satisfaction as has Mr. Paige in the 11 years that he has been in the auditor's office. High state statistical experts have classed him as one of the leaders in his profession in Massachusetts and his system of keeping the city's books has been the source of many compliments. It was not until Saturday noon that Mr. Paige had definitely accepted the new position and not until the matter came to the attention of the council at yesterday's meeting was it generally known that he was to resign. He intends to make his home in Boston eventually, he told me yesterday, but for the present he will keep in frequent touch with Lowell.

GERMAN PRISONERS HELPED UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, July 23.—Another version of how the American army was aided by the two mysterious German prisoners of war who arrived here Monday from France, and who now are being held at Hoboken pending receipt of orders from Washington to send them to the national capital, was obtained from a non-commissioned officer, formerly attached to the intelligence branch of the field army staff. According to this "non-com" the two prisoners, who were brought here under names of Alfred Scholz and Alvin Grotke received a sum of money from the United States government and were housed and fed with the enlisted men at field headquarters. Wearing German uniforms, they used to mingle with prisoners captured by the Americans awaiting transportation to the rear and after conversing with these prisoners were able to inform American officers whether information obtained from them under examination was correct.

The "non-com" said it was during the St. Mihiel drive that Scholz, who claimed to have been a student at Heidelberg, first aided in an American offensive. "He was a draftsman, and his ability to carry the details of a map in his head was astounding," said the American. "When we went into the St. Mihiel drive, Scholz sketched from memory the location of the four most troublesome German batteries which were guarding the outer circle of enemy defenses. So well did he give us the dope on these guns that our artillery put them completely out of commission before the drive was fully under way."

The American said he did not think Scholz was a socialist, but it was bitterness against some sort of ill-treat-

If Thin and Nervous, Try Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put a Firm Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

When one stops to consider the heat of this people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print. While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book "Hygiene and Food Nutrition," published in 1915, says that "the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may be made up by the use of an organic phosphate. Known throughout the leading countries as Bitro-Phosphate, through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue, the phosphate content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature, produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and protruding angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing. It is sold by A. W. Dows in Lowell and all good druggists. While Bitro-Phosphate is a most valuable food, those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fast-producing foods.—Adv.

SEIZED BY MOONSHINERS

Officer Brought Before Justice and Sentenced—Rescued by Another Officer

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 23.—After being seized by a gang of moonshiners, brought before a Greenbrier county justice of the peace and found guilty of bootlegging, H. R. Ratliff of Hinton, a state prohibition officer, has returned from a tour of the hills. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail but was rescued by Harry Fitzgerald, a brother officer, from a moonshiner who was taking him to jail.

Ratliff and Fitzgerald went into the hills to investigate a report that many illicit stills were in operation. They located two and Ratliff went to the village of Auto, W. Va., to telephone the department at Charleston for additional men to make the raid while in Auto. Ratliff was arrested by a gang of moonshiners at the point of revolvers and taken before the justice.

After the rescue of Ratliff by Fitzgerald, the officers destroyed two stills and more than 6000 gallons of mash and swore out 19 warrants for Greenbrier county residents, charged with making moonshine.

COMING SOON

"Open Your Eyes" is a thrilling drama of youth, love, disillusionment, suffering and medical quackery. It is a picture with a double purpose. Not only does it thrill and entertain, but it leaves a thought behind. Realizing the tremendous influence for good possessed by motion picture propaganda, the public health service prepared "Open Your Eyes," feeling that a drama assessing the strength and sympathetic appeal of this photography would be as potent a factor in combating the social evil as was "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in creating an overwhelming public sentiment against the institution of negro slavery.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Adv.

20,000 U. S. SOLDIERS TOOK FOREIGN BRIDES

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Special regiments, composed largely, if not entirely of married men, probably will result from the war department policy announced today regarding the disposition of regulars who are returning to this country with French wives. Orders have been sent to commanding officers of debarkation ports to transfer such men and their wives to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., or Fort Myer, Va., when they belong to the cavalry, and to Madison Barracks, N. Y., in the case of Infantrymen.

Tentatively selected as the units which are to become the F.F.V. (father of families veterans) of the military establishment are the third cavalry at Forts Myer and Ethan Allen, and the Sixth cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and an infantry regiment, yet to be named at the New York post. The regimental commander in each instance has been instructed to provide facilities which will enable the soldier to take care of his new responsibilities. Official estimates are that 20,000 American soldiers took foreign brides. A majority of these men were American enlistments and it is believed three regiments will be sufficient to accommodate the regulars.

LABOR SHORTAGE IN MOTOR INDUSTRY

There is an acute scarcity of skilled labor in the motor trade throughout the United States and particularly in Chicago. It is reported today to Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, by the editor of a leading motor magazine. There are therefore excellent opportunities with the motor industry, for finding satisfactory employment.

This offers an attractive field to discharged service men, a great many of whom received a thorough training in the handling of motors during their service in the army. The motor industry, it is further reported, has utilized the services of discharged soldiers and sailors to the fullest extent. Practically all of the men returned from the service who before enlisting were in the motor industry or trade, have been re-employed. In addition, a great many men who have been trained along motor lines while in the service have also found employment.

On account of the labor unrest in practically all skilled labor lines, however, and on account of the falling off of immigration and apprenticeship during the period of the war, there are still a number of excellent opportunities open to ex-service men who before the war were members of the motor industry, or who during the war acquired skill in the motor trade.

An ex-convict has just secured a good position in a Washington, D. C., bank. He went to the president and said: "I used to be a cashier, but now I am an ex-convict. I served two years in the penitentiary. Will you give me a job?" After a little investigation the president did.

TEN PERSONS SHOT

Disorders Attend Breaking
Up of Majority Socialist
Meeting in Berlin

BERLIN, Tuesday, July 22 (By the Associated Press).—Ten persons were shot during disorders which attended the breaking up of a majority socialist meeting by communists and Spartacists yesterday. Those attending the meeting, which was held in the Trades Union building, attempted to lynch the man who fired the shots but he was saved by hospital helpers who were in the building.

Several majority socialist meetings yesterday did not develop as smoothly and quietly as they began. Communists and Spartacists by the pre-arranged plan smuggled fellow radicals into halls where the majority socialists were congregated and there broke up the meetings by riot calls and other noises and even by violence.

At countless meetings the majority socialist speakers gave up attempts to speak after half an hour of shouting, and in the Trades Union building, where the biggest meeting was held, chairs, beer bottles and even tables were flung about in a successful attempt to break up the gathering. A communist agitator jumped on the stage while Erich Kuttner, editor of Vorwaerts, was speaking, and made a counter speech.

The hall instantly was transferred into a bedlam, which increased as the opponents began to throw glasses and seize chairs with which to belabor each other. Suddenly shots were fired. Ten persons were wounded, including Kuttner, who was attended by workers and hospital helpers. The audience tried to lynch the shooter, who also was saved by the hospital helpers.

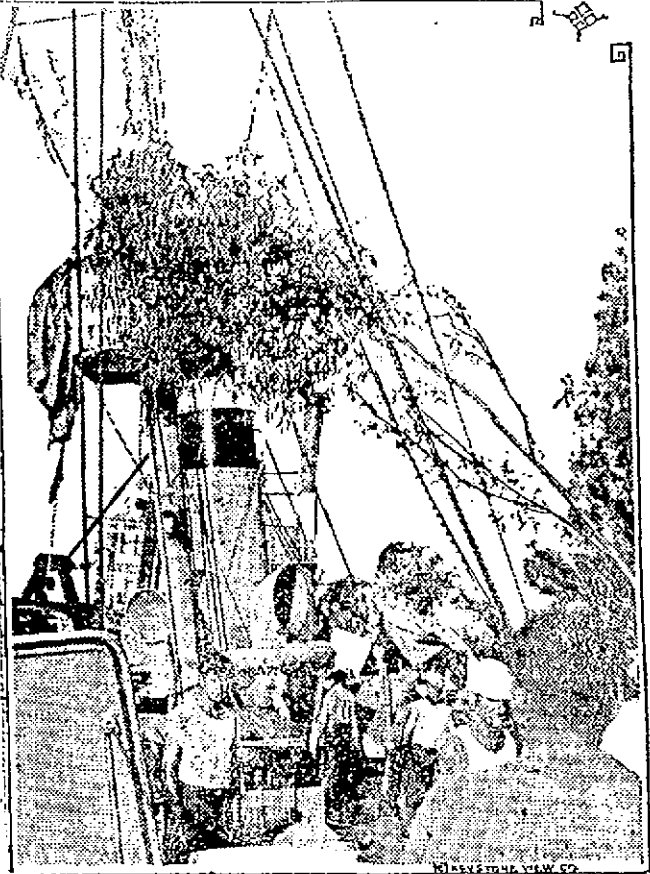

Government troops had to quell wordy riots in other halls. The Berlin press is indignant at the uproar. The Vorwaerts heads its leader, "Instead of conciliating the people—civil war." The People's Gazette calls the day "the senseless strike Monday."

$25,000 FOR MAYS

Comiskey Offers Huge Sum For Red Sox Star

CHICAGO, July 23.—Carl Mays, eminent exponent of the submarine delivery, may soon be wearing the uniform of the White Sox. If Pres. Comiskey doesn't land this excellent flinger it won't be because he failed to come across with the cash. It was reported yesterday that Comiskey had offered $25,000 for the Red Sox hurler.

With a pennant staring him in the face for 1919, the Sox magnate is determined to get another winning pitcher for Glasgow, regardless of cost. If he fails to land Mays, the man who controls the destinies of the South Side team will go after some other strong-armed hurler.

Comiskey knows it is difficult to grab a dog with two pitchers. He is banking heavily on Dick Kerr, whom he likes despite his diminutive stature, but Kerr, like all rookies, is an experiment.

FIVE DRIVERS INJURED IN TRACK SPILL

TOLEDO, O., July 23.—Horses, drivers and sulkeys were piled up in a heap at Miami Driving park yesterday afternoon when a half-dozen entrants crashed into Minor Hal, Brusie driving, as he attempted to cut across the track just as the bunch rounded the turn into the stretch in the second heat of the 2:09 pace.

Five drivers were injured, but the heat was finished and the damaged entrants given places. Brusie was cut away one eye, Allen, behind William Patch, sustained a broken wrist; Betty Blacklock jumped the fence with Driver Walker and the latter escaped with a sprained leg; Hedrick, sitting on Alexander the Great's tail, was cut about the face and head, and Murphy, holding Edgar's reins, came out of the mess with a sprained leg.

It was an exciting heat, with a good start, and every driver looking out for himself and the "devil" take the hindmost. The field was divided into two bunches as the horses rounded the last turn. Minor Hal, leading the second group, attempted to cut across for a position on the outside of the first bunch when the crash came.

A shudder ran through the great crowd, which was as large as that in attendance on the opening day. For a moment, the excitement was intense and it did not subside until it was learned that none of the drivers had been killed.

The track was fast and it was a great day for horse lovers. One record was broken when Goldie Todd, driven by Geers, paced the last quarter in 28 1/2 in the first heat of the 2:09 pace. This was the fastest quarter of the year.

The major honors of the day were won by Geers and Murphy. The latter earned the big share of the purse of $1000 with Fensie in the 2:11 trot and the Mamie stake of $2000 with Royal Mac. "Pop" Geers drove Goldie Todd to victory in the 2:09 pace for a purse of $1000.

The Call'em

The Red Sox trotted out a new pitcher yesterday—one Paul Musser of Des Moines—and although he lost his game, 2 to 1, he should not feel the reverse too keenly for he was pitted against Dutch Leonard, unblittable when right. Barrow was more than satisfied with the rookie's work and has high hopes for his future. Musser is a right-hander and after leaving college played for a time in the Tri-State league and later in the Ohio State league.

He was with Washington for a short time in 1912 and 1913 and was then sent to Atlanta. He worked for Los Angeles in 1911 from which club he went to Des Moines. He comes back to the majors with an impressive strikeout record and showed fine courage yesterday when he faced Veach, Helman and Flagstead, a trio of tearing sluggers.

Down With Autoeconomy

It would be a bad move on the part of Ban Johnson to allow the White Sox to purchase Carl Mays for any price. Such a deal would savor too strongly of the habits of the National league in allowing one club to obtain a batch of stars to the acute detriment of other teams—as an illustration, the New York Giants. It is generally believed that Mays would be a winning pitcher with almost any club in the circuit outside of the Red Sox and if Chicago got him a pennant for Comiskey would be practically assured.

The A. L. race between Chicago, New York, Cleveland and Detroit is too tight to deliberately allow any one of the quartet to obtain the services of the submarine artist.

Couldn't Stand the Golf

Stung by considerable newspaper and other criticism, which he considered unjustified, Pat Flaherty has resigned as manager of the Louisville team of the American association. He has temporarily been succeeded by Joe Mc-Carthy, who very likely will receive a permanent appointment.

Hard Boys to Fool

Good proof of the drastic action grand circuit judges may take when a driver does not try to place his horse in a race was given at Toledo yesterday when Ashley of Detroit, pilot of Synbol S. Forrest, in the 2:07 class race was ruled out of competition on the grand circuit for the rest of the season because it was apparent to the judging board that he did not attempt to win the third heat. He finished second in the first heat and pushed his horse into first place in the second wish. In the third he dropped back to tenth place and his suspension followed.

Indoor Sports!

Porky Flynn and Battling Jack Johnson hucked each other all around the ring in Boston last night, according to the reports and the latter lost the award for displaying the greater amount of affection. At times Porky loved his man to death, but experienced a change of heart just often enough to win his way into the good graces of the referee.

T'WAS A HARD BET TO PAY BUT HE PAID IT CHEERFULLY, DID HENRY LEVASSEUR

William Wright, long of limb and possessing an uncanny faculty of picking winners, parked his angular frame in the cramped confines of a bright, wooden wheelbarrow at 7 o'clock last night and was trundled through Merriamack street, from the square to the C.M.A.C. building by Henry Levasseur. It was a homely production of "paid in full" and although Henry weakened a little as the hill grew steeper in upper Merriamack street, he stuck to his handle and cheerfully endured the tantalizing grin of satisfaction which covered the face of the sagacious William.

It all came about when Henry and William crossed swords over the outcome of the C.M.A.C.—B. & M. car shop baseball game played at Spaulding Park on Saturday. "Hen" avowed as how he liked the looks of the C.M.A.C., while Bill said he guessed he would string along with the railroad boys. Bill was as stupid as a fox in making the bet one of labor, rather than the mere exchange of currency, and when the car shop team won the game he was all set for the big ride. There was a forfeit sum of $5 placed for non-appearance, but Henry had no idea of losing the V.

TO ALLOW WOMEN TO HOLD PUBLIC OFFICES

LONDON, Tuesday, July 22.—The bill entitling women to hold public offices and exercise public functions, which passed second reading in the house of lords today is one introduced by the government as a substitute for the bill of William G. Adamson in the house of commons on behalf of the labor party. The Adamson bill gave women the franchise on the same terms as men, but only at the age of 30.

The government bill does not change the franchise and does not remove the disqualification excluding women from the higher ranks of civil service. It contains a clause entitling peeresses in their own right to sit in the house of lords.

The Sun reflects the voice of the community and its circulation shows its opinions are supported.

LOWELL STRONG ON BUTTERMILK

Dealers Claim Spindle City
People Are Champion But-
termilk Drinkers

Only Kick in Buttermilk
Comes From the Cow—
Very Healthy Drink

Is Lowell the champion buttermilk town of New England? Local buttermilk dealers say so, and they ought to know.

The peak of her buttermilk consumption may be said to be reached during the hot summer months of June, July and August. Our average consumption of buttermilk at the present time is certified to be 4000 quarts daily.

All other New England cities and towns disposed to dispute our buttermilk drinking honors would find themselves left at the starting post as compared to the colossal record for imbibing this healthy fluid Lowell modestly owns up to and does no particular bragging about.

The secretary of agriculture designated July 1 as "National Buttermilk Day," but every day is a buttermilk day for Lowell people. Perhaps Mr. Houston doesn't know about our consumption of buttermilk per day, but if he did he would probably feel like drawing us near to his heart.

One of the reasons why we drink so much buttermilk in Lowell is because it is so easy to procure and the price is reasonable. There is one big dairy company selling sweet milk whose drivers carry a supply of buttermilk on their teams at all times and the housewife, whether she is a customer of the driver's or not, can run out any time she wishes and buy a quart bottle of buttermilk for eight cents. Another dairy company with a place of business in Worthen street distributes its buttermilk through 100 Lowell food stores and in addition will sell buttermilk at its creamery.

Manager James E. Moody of the Turner Centre Dairymen association has been handling buttermilk and other dairy products in Lowell for a period of 20 years and he gave The Sun some interesting information about the habit of drinking buttermilk in Lowell.

City's First Dispenser

"I presume credit for fostering the good, healthy habit of drinking buttermilk in our city," began Mr. Moody, "ought to be extended to the late W. O. Wing, whom thousands of our older citizens will remember, for he peddled buttermilk in large quantities more than 20 years ago. He found, as I have heard him tell the story, that many of our residents in Lowell had been in the habit of drinking buttermilk in the old country. Wing peddled good buttermilk and these people coming to Lowell to live were glad to have access to this fine drink to which they had been accustomed in their former homes, when it was sold at a moderate price.

"It may be said that the habit has grown steadily ever since. You ask me how much our business in buttermilk has increased since July 1st, when prohibition went into effect. We believe it has increased 100 per cent. We believe we now have an average distribution of 2000 quarts a day and many days the demand is so great for buttermilk we fall short of being able to fill all the demands made on us.

"One of the reasons why buttermilk is a drink relished by men in the habit of drinking liquor is this. Such men tell me that continued use of liquor raises havoc with their stomachs. Oftentimes the stomach gets to a stage where food is hostile to it. Such men turn to drinking buttermilk. They find that buttermilk has an acid in it that is relished by the stomach and has a tonic effect on the stomach. It brings the stomach back to its normal state of health in many cases and is recognized by medical men as being both food and medicine."

Buttermilk Not Alcoholic

Referring to the belief obtaining in some quarters that drinking men resorted to buttermilk because it was thought to have an alcoholic "punch" in it, Mr. Moody said he was inclined to not believe this.

"Let us see how sweet milk analyzes," he said. "Sweet milk has, of fat, about 3.5 per cent, casein 3.5, sugar, 5 per cent, albumen and ash, 1 per cent. This gives a total of 13 per cent and the remaining 87 per cent is of course water. Buttermilk is in many ways similar in its content to sweet milk except that this 5 per cent fat has been removed and become butter. Can you see anything in this analysis that in the slightest way gives any alcoholic indication?"

"The chemical analysis of buttermilk and skimmed milk is practically the same. Buttermilk has it on a good many foods in that it is in some respects a predigested food. We learn oftentimes of doctors prescribing a small amount of buttermilk for babies having food troubles and we know that it is an excellent baby food when given in moderate quantities.

"Many people find that if they drank as much as a quart of sweet milk on a warm summer day it would have a bad effect on their stomach and perhaps give them a headache. Buttermilk on the other hand is, 'the milk without a headache' for the average person could drink as much as three quarts of milk a day, or even more, and not experience physical discomfort. It is refreshing and although a by-product of the dairymen industry, has nutritional value.

Lowell as Champion Town

Asked what his foundation was for asserting that Lowell drank more buttermilk than any other New England city, Mr. Moody replied:

"The concern for which I work has a chain of branches similar to the one maintained in Lowell. We operate dairy product distributing places in

The closing of poolrooms, motion

Overseas Troops Called Out

After a conference between Secretary Baker and President Wilson about 2000 troops under the command of Major General W. C. Haan, recently returned from overseas service, was ordered to Washington from Camp Meade and other nearby posts. This force is expected to remain on duty until normal conditions are restored.

Most of the aggression came from the blacks who had armed themselves for retaliation on the whites following the beating of a number of negroes. Practically all the serious trouble was

In this district.

Hundreds injured; Jails Filled
Since Monday five persons have been killed and at least ten fatally wounded. Hundreds have been less seriously hurt and the jails and hospitals are overflowing.

Sales of firearms and ammunition in the city has been stopped. With the military practically in control, the authorities express the belief that there will be no more serious trouble.

Continued
Boston, Providence, Portland, Worcester and Auburn, Me., and a few other places. The head ones of the firm tell me that our branch here received more shipments of buttermilk and a larger quantity, than any other city. There is a possibility that Boston should be made an exception in this championship claim and Lowell said to be champion of cities outside of Boston, but there may be some doubt about this. Hundreds of Lowell women and men think nothing of drinking four quarts of buttermilk a day. How many Boston people do you suppose there are of whom this can be said?

Buttermilk Fuddles Hens

Another source of some interesting information on this new buttermilk era now come so prominently into its own. The Sun found to be J. B. Downing, of the Gordon Dairy company, 302 Worthen street, its manager. The Sun reporter asked Mr. Downing if there were any truth in the report that buttermilk, partaken of in sufficient quantity and at a certain age—age of the buttermilk—would produce that

AN INTERNAL TREATMENT FOR PILES (HEMORRHOIDS)

Gives absolute relief from all pain and suffering. This never failed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy. The discovery of a clever Ohio chemist that taken internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where by its soothing, healing, antiseptic action, it first attacks and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Hushed relief often comes in two or three days. Even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments, Miro Pile Remedy has been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with his use can have their money refunded.

Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313 Broadway, Lorain, Ohio, says: "I was greatly relieved of my Miro Pile Remedy for Piles. There is no equal to it. I suffered for 18 years and tried everything that was recommended. I doctored myself with many pills. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

It is positively known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this reason Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

If your druggist cannot supply you with Miro, send either of the above, mail charges paid, in receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50, War Tax 6c, External Ointment 50c, War Tax 6c. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elyria, Ohio—Adv.

MERRIMACK STREET

feeling of happiness which a paternally kind government has decided should not be brought about by malt or vinous liquor.

"I don't believe it," declared Manager Downing. "I have had some 20 odd years of acquaintance with buttermilk and people who drink it and this talk about 'buttermilk jags' sounds to me like silly rot."

"I'll tell you one surprising thing, though, in connection with this subject. A hen can get drunk on buttermilk. People accustomed to living on a farm will tell you that when buttermilk of a certain age is fed to hens and they drink too much of it, they will reel around the barnyard looking exactly as if they were tipsy and farmers say that is exactly what it amounts to."

"As for this yarn about people drinking buttermilk and getting part of the stimulating effects usually credited to liquor, I don't take stock in it. I have one family as a customer which has three persons in it, man, wife, one child. In one day they bought 17 quarts of buttermilk from our creamery and the father told me the 17 quarts was consumed by his wife and child in one day. Now if there is any one family entitled to get the joy of a buttermilk jag I should think it would have been this family and yet they experienced nothing out of their usual quiet routine."

Mr. Downing says he is an enemy of the so-called chemical or artificial buttermilk. Some drug stores and refreshment places, it is said, are selling this product. It is not genuine buttermilk, according to Downing. The dispenser takes a quart of sweet milk and puts a "buttermilk tablet" into it and produces a liquid tasting much like buttermilk, but lacking the real "pep" of buttermilk. The buttermilk tablet has as its active principle, a derivative from the substance called rennet. Downing says a thimbleful of rennet put into a 100 gallon tank of sweet milk will make the sweet milk crazy and fell it inside of ten minutes. Downing maintains that the buttermilk fan has a right to ask the soda fountain man if his buttermilk is fake buttermilk, i. e. chemically processed buttermilk or if it comes his honest way from the butter churn.

Speaking about the increase in his buttermilk business since July 1, Mr. Downing said:

"We sold twice as much buttermilk July 1 as we sold June 30. The buttermilk business has been good all through June, but as soon as prohibition went into effect it started with a rush with us. We have more demand for buttermilk oftentimes than we can supply. We distribute not at retail but through food stores and markets and soda fountains in Lowell and we believe we are wholesaling at least 1000 quarts of buttermilk a day. We of course have to accommodate the people of this neighborhood by selling them buttermilk at retail because we want to be considered good neighbors.

"The test of real, genuine buttermilk, and the thing that contrasts it with the chemical drink called buttermilk, is the little chunks of butter fat seen in the buttermilk sold from places like ours. This is something that cannot be avoided and we don't want to avoid it because it is the customer's guarantee that he is getting the pure article straight from the churn."

"We make it a rule not to distribute buttermilk to the homes only in 3 quart containers because we haven't time or help permitting anything different. It is surprising how many such customers we have who will buy an 8-quart can twice of three times a week. We don't assume that all of this is used as a beverage as we know that many women know buttermilk is one of the finest ingredients to use in cooking."

"I agree with all that has been said in regard to Lowell using more buttermilk than any other New England city. With this creamery selling 1000 quarts a day and whatever quantity the other concern sells, probably other milk dealers are peddling out 1000 quarts more."

Mill Outlook
buyers of cotton goods curtailed their activities and settled back to await the time when war-time prices dropped. Then wages began to increase and when the buyers saw that prices had reached a new level and showed no signs of recession, they came back into the market for goods and business went merrily on. The demand for goods now is generally strong.

Lowell mills are running full schedule, raw material is available in sufficient quantities and in the majority of corporations, employment is offered along several lines. As far as can be learned, this condition will continue for the year. Although practically every Lowell mill has nothing to do with the purchase of raw material through local offices, representatives of the corporations out of town say that cotton is obtainable in adequate amounts and in many instances local mills have at least three months' supply on hand at present.

Lowell mill men are agreed that the export trade between this country and European powers is going to become enormous but also feel that certain requirements must be lived up to if a successful trade is to become a reality. One particular element which will call for a great deal of careful study is delivery. Under conditions where the capacity of textile plants is insufficient to care for current demand from domestic customers it is not likely that requests from abroad will continue to receive the attention that buyers seem warranted in expecting.

It is believed that the only satisfactory solution of the delivery problem can be reached by setting apart a certain percentage of a plant's machinery whose product shall be devoted exclusively to the filling of export orders. But to pursue such a course naturally means that a good many difficulties will have to be met and surmounted. The manufacturer or selling agent who makes it a rule to apportion a part of the product for which he is responsible to the export buyer, is likely to be confronted by opposition from domestic trade in such a market as the present.

The United States is handicapped in export business in comparison to England. This country has never built up an export trade, while Great Britain, on the other hand, has created a system that has taken years to develop. Lowell men feel that ability to compete must be supplemented by service of a very real kind in order to not only maintain the good will of those buyers who have been forced to provide for their necessities by reason of the war's exigencies, but also to obtain new channels of outlet for the product of mills which may be operated to capacity for the time being on merchandise for domestic consumption, but of which there may be demand at some future time for just such a market.

All in all, the cotton business—Lowell's backbone of life and the reason of the city's birth—seems to be a certain profitable proposition for the year 1919 and unless something unforeseen occurs, for quite a few years to come.

field in New Haven, on the charge that on or about July 1 last, he sold intoxicating liquor "unlawfully and knowingly before the conclusion of the present war and before the termination of demobilization, the date of which is to be determined by the president."

He was defended by Arnold A. Ailing, state prosecutor of Connecticut, who demurred on the ground that the law was unconstitutional and that as peace had been restored, it was not a war-time measure.

Hammer vs. Dagenhart (247 U.S. 251) was cited as holding the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors to be a prerogative of congress similar to that of declaring war.

The claims of the defendant that the war is over are set aside on the basis of United States supreme court decisions holding also that as "a matter of fact, we are still at war with Austria and the army which has been conducting the war with Germany and Austria, is not in fact demobilized."

"The prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors through the exercise of the power to levy war is within the right of congress in the exercise of its discretion."

"If congress had the power to enact this particular law for the purpose of conserving food, it is no objection to an exercise of that power to say that it thereby accomplishes prohibition of the sale of alcoholic liquors, which under other amendments of the constitution is left to legislation by the particular states."

LOWELL'S CITY AUDITORS
Fourteen Men Have Held the Position to Date—John Nesmith First Auditor

No less than 14 men have held the position of city auditor in Lowell since the city was incorporated in 1837, a perusal of the records at city hall shows. The resignation of Charles D. Paige, accepted by the municipal council yesterday, after 14 years of service from Mr. Paige, has awakened interest in the former occupants of the office.

To David Chase goes the honor of holding the position longer than any of the other occupants. With the exception of one year, 1857, Mr. Chase held the office continuously from 1871 until 1905 or for 33 years. George Gardner held the office for 15 years, or from 1858 until Mr. Chase was elected in 1874. He stands second to Mr. Chase in point of long term of service and Mr. Paige is third with 14 years' continuous service as auditor to his credit.

Mr. Chase died while in office in May, 1905, and James T. Dunfee, at present a clerk in the auditor's office, was appointed by Mayor James B. Casey as auditor until the election of Mr. Paige the following July by the city council and board of aldermen. Mr. Dunfee, by the way, has been 28 years in the service of the city, being in the auditor's office since 1891 and in the assessors' office 11 years before.

Lowell's first auditor was John Nesmith, a member of the family that had much to do with Lowell's early history as a municipality. He served in 1836 and was succeeded in 1837 by J. W. Mansur. Mr. Mansur served for two years and the next auditor was H. G. Corliss who held the job for only one year.

The first auditor to hold his position for any extensive number of years was John G. Locke, elected in 1849. He served continuously until 1845 when George A. Butterfield took up the reins. Mr. Butterfield served only two years and in 1850 gave way to William Lamson, Jr., who has three years' service to his credit.

Leonard Brown was city auditor in 1852 and 1854 and gave way to J. J. Maguire in 1855 and 1856. Henry A. Lord served in 1857 for one year only and was succeeded by George A. Gardner who looked after the city's books continuously for 16 years through the Civil war period. Many a veteran resident of the city will recall Mr. Gardner's ever immaculate appearance while in office and those who remember city hall affairs at that time describe him as wearing a frock coat and tall hat with an ornate present bouquet in the buttonhole of his coat.

The ornate Gardner was succeeded in 1874 by David Chase whose portrait adorns the auditor's office today. In 1887 William J. Coughlin served as auditor but Mr. Chase returned the next year to continue until his death in 1905. Mr. Dunfee served several months until Mr. Paige was appointed. The latter's successor on August 1 will be J. Joseph Hennessy, the city's 15th auditor.

Eighteen million pounds of granulated sugar are now piled up in New Orleans warehouses and other storages, captive and idle. This was bought for the use of the army and navy during the war, but it is no longer needed for that purpose.

Mill Outlook

buyers of cotton goods curtailed their activities and settled back to await the time when war-time prices dropped. Then wages began to increase and when the buyers saw that prices had reached a new level and showed no signs of recession, they came back into the market for goods and business went merrily on. The demand for goods now is generally strong.

Lowell mills are running full schedule, raw material is available in sufficient quantities and in the majority of corporations, employment is offered along several lines. As far as can be learned, this condition will continue for the year. Although practically every Lowell mill has nothing to do with the purchase of raw material through local offices, representatives of the corporations out of town say that cotton is obtainable in adequate amounts and in many instances local mills have at least three months' supply on hand at present.

Lowell mill men are agreed that the export trade between this country and European powers is going to become enormous but also feel that certain requirements must be lived up to if a successful trade is to become a reality. One particular element which will call for a great deal of careful study is delivery. Under conditions where the capacity of textile plants is insufficient to care for current demand from domestic customers it is not likely that requests from abroad will continue to receive the attention that buyers seem warranted in expecting.

It is believed that the only satisfactory solution of the delivery problem can be reached by setting apart a certain percentage of a plant's machinery whose product shall be devoted exclusively to the filling of export orders. But to pursue such a course naturally means that a good many difficulties will have to be met and surmounted. The manufacturer or selling agent who makes it a rule to apportion a part of the product for which he is responsible to the export buyer, is likely to be confronted by opposition from domestic trade in such a market as the present.

The United States is handicapped in export business in comparison to England. This country has never built up an export trade, while Great Britain, on the other hand, has created a system that has taken years to develop. Lowell men feel that ability to compete must be supplemented by service of a very real kind in order to not only maintain the good will of those buyers who have been forced to provide for their necessities by reason of the war's exigencies, but also to obtain new channels of outlet for the product of mills which may be operated to capacity for the time being on merchandise for domestic consumption, but of which there may be demand at some future time for just such a market.

All in all, the cotton business—Lowell's backbone of life and the reason of the city's birth—seems to be a certain profitable proposition for the year 1919 and unless something unforeseen occurs, for quite a few years to come.

MORE CANDIDATES FOR STATE OFFICES
More candidates for state officers have taken out nomination papers from the office of City Clerk Stephen Flynn. John H. Everett of 59 Twelfth street is a candidate for representative in the 14th district and will be opposed by Patrick A. Hayes of 155 Humphrey street in the same district. The first senatorial candidate to take out his papers is E. Gaston Campbell of 15 Fred street in the eighth senatorial district.

SEN. McKELLAR
FAVORS LEAGUE
Calls It One of the Greatest Forward Steps in the Nation's History

Declares Most of the Opposition Came From Reac-
tionaries of Old School

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The League of Nations was supported in the senate today by Senator McKellar, democrat, of Tennessee, as one of the greatest forward steps in the nation's history. Most of the opposition, he asserted, came from reactionaries of the same school as those who opposed the federal constitution.

"If the reactionaries had had their way in the beginning of our government," he said, "we probably would not have had a republic. If they had had their way the republic would never have been enlarged."

"Every dictate of conscience, every dictate of humanity, every dictate of an enlightened self-interest, every dictate of commercial and industrial advantage, every dictate of a desire for peace, requires the establishment of this great world pact."

"Reactionary republicans and reactionary democrats, who are opposing this league, don't let your hatred of any one man warp and set aside your judgment. Whatever may be said of Mr. Wilson, he has surely done great things for America. Under his administration, we have become a world power faster than in any other like period in our history. All of his work has been done for America. Let not America, who has given this great peace covenant to the world, be the only one to repudiate it."

The speaker quoted Senator Lodge's speech in the senate last December and declared the peace terms laid down there had been substantially embodied in the treaty. Senator Knox, he said, had desired to go even farther than the league covenant in his resolution declaring the United States would co-operate to remove any future menace to European peace.

"The real criticism of the league in the minds of its opponents in the senate," continued Mr. McKellar, "is that Woodrow Wilson took a commanding part in the formation of the league. There may be better plans, but why haven't they been produced?"

He said he did not agree that Article

275,000 COAL MINERS ARE OUT
Welsh Miners Refuse To Join
Yorkshire Strikers—Bonar
Law Talks

Says Strike Protest Against
High Prices, Interference in
Russia and Conscription

LONDON, Tuesday, July 22.—The most hopeful feature of the coal strike situation tonight was the decision of the Welsh miners at a conference at Cardiff, not to join the Yorkshire men. The men on strike total about 275,000, Yorkshire, Derbyshire, Nottingham and Monmouth being the counties mainly affected.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, told a questioner in the house of commons today that as far as the government was aware, there was no particular person behind the miners' unrest, and that the movement seemed to be a protest against the increase in the price of coal, the cost of living, military interference in Russia and conscription.

The strikers fear that troops will attempt to break the strike.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Stanley Worth of Washington, D. C., and Miss Laura Bernice Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Calhoun of this city were married last evening, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride by Rev. W. F. Whitney of the Centralville Methodist church. The bridesmaid was Miss Violet M. Calhoun, a sister of the bride, while the best man was Mr. Rothwell E. Smith of New York. The couple will make their home at 1821 Eighteenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Imposed only a moral obligation to go to war to preserve the integrity of members, but that it rightly imposed a legal obligation to do so.

Replying to the charge of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, that the league might be controlled by black, red and yellow races, Senator McKellar quoted this passage from a speech made when Jefferson bought Louisiana:

"We are now to look for our rulers to the black, yellow and red brethren beyond the Mississippi."

WELCOME HOME PARTY
Priv. McGurn Tendered Reception by Friends—Four Other Soldiers Present

Private Edward T. McGurn was tendered a welcome party at his home, 110 South Walker street, last evening when a large number of his friends gathered to greet him and extend congratulations on his safe return from service in the war. The unit to which he belonged was discharged at Camp Devens yesterday with several others recently returned from France.

Among the party were his friends of the Henlock camp club of Billerica of which he is a member, and three fellow members of Co. C, Machine Gun Infantry of the 78th Division. These were William Muldoon, of 125 Pleasant street, who returned on July 12; Patrick Harrington, of 2 Adams avenue, who had been transferred to the 1st Division and came back as a casual or unassigned March 10; Private Andrew Kelly, of 103 Manchester street, who had been transferred to the ordnance service and returned as a casual, July 11; Robert L. Holmes, 163 West Sixth street, who served in a leading capacity with the 14th Engineers was also present. He went to France on July 27, 1917, as master engineer and was at first connected with the First Battalion at regimental headquarters. He served later in all the leading battles of the war including the Somme, the Nirne, Chateau Thierry and the Argonne. He returned April 27, 1919. He is now employed at the Billerica car shops.

An informal musical program was carried out with George Freeman and Paul E. Gallagher as pianists. Several popular selections were rendered by the vocalists of the Henlock club, namely, James Connon, James Blakey, John Devine, Maurice Quirk, Harry Costello and James McGuire. The young ladies who joined in the various songs and choruses were: the Misses Susan Nelson, Mary Gallagher, Marion Burns, Katie Sullivan, Mary Holmes, Katie Holmes, Margaret and Susan McGurn.

From the five soldiers fresh from thrilling experiences in the war, the others present heard many interesting stories of warfare both on land and sea.

Private McGurn told of the difficulties under which supplies were transported to distant points, sometimes under range of the enemy guns. Mr. Harrington knew more of the food supplied than any of the others as he had filled an emergency assignment as cook. Private Muldoon paid a visit to Rev. Fr. Muldoon, a relative in London, while on a furlough. Private Kelly had some lively experiences in the ordnance service but Engineer Holmes could describe all the leading battles of the war from personal observation.

Seasonable refreshments were served and the party dispersed at a late hour after a most enjoyable evening.

WHO KNOWS THIS FISH?

Lor' Man, This Dry Time
Story Knocked Us Out!
H. Gonzales, Please Write

What to do with ex-Kaiser Bill is one great big, fat question. Some are hoisting him for the nomination of knighting himself in the latest style hemp collar. Others are roasting solitary confinement for him in the famous London hard egg attic.

But do you what's saying wood in Holland, we read in a despatch the other day, is very fond of fish, and fish happens to be at this time our subject story, so to speak. (Get that "so to speak.") It means a whole lot more than you imagine, for, to be honest about it, if we had all the fish in the world, we'd pinch him for getting near enough to the scales to get weighed.

We can think of so many things, funny, historical, biblical and otherwise, in connection with fish, that it is almost impossible to reach the story of our first and pure intentions. The minute we think of fish we think of Jonah and the whale, like Walton, members of the Lowell Fish and Game association, and other piscatorial authorities.

Well, anyhow, there's fish hanging in front of Harry Gonzales' store in Gorham street and if you know anything about fishology you can connect with a nice fishing rod by describing that fish, giving it its proper name, and telling all you know and more, of its genealogy.

Harry knows the kind of fish it is, and so do two or three of Harry's friends, but Harry is game enough to offer the fishing rod prize to any outsider who can properly identify this particular denizen of the deep.

Story For Stay-at-Homes

The fish in question was hooked by John Kennefick, a member of the executive committee of the Lowell Fish and Game association. The time was yesterday, early afternoon, and the place off Grave's light.

Mr. Kennefick, accompanied by Eddie Shannahan of Suffolk street, and Michael Dowd of Oak street, both old and experienced deep-sea fishermen, set out yesterday morning from Fox Hill bridge, West Lynn, with Capt. P. J. Hogan, in the latter's motor boat. It might be said in passing, that said motor boat is well known to Lowell fishermen, for Capt. Hogan is as familiar with the fishing ground as he is with the streets in West Lynn, and when Lowell deep-sea fishermen want to try their luck they accept Capt. Hogan as the day's best bet. With the genial captain to guide them they never come back empty-handed, and besides, the wonderful fish, heretofore and hereafter mentioned, the Lowell fishermen who went out from West Lynn yesterday morning came back with cod and haddock galore. In fact they caught more than they could possibly bring home and Capt. Hogan said that on account of the scarcity of fish he would realize quite a pretty penny on the fish that the Lowell men left in his boat.

Story of Real Fish Fight

"The fish had been biting pretty steadily all day," said Mr. Kennefick to The Sun reporter today, "when suddenly there was a let-up. We didn't wait long for the cause for pretty soon we saw a great school of those cursed dogfish. We pulled in a few of them just for the satisfaction of cutting their heads off and were enjoying our

Fish Does Its Own Fishing

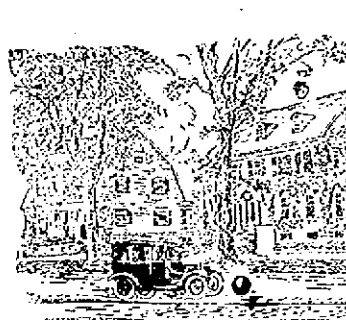

Thus directed, the reporter gazed in awe upon the ugliest looking fish that ever entered Lowell, for none. It weighs somewhere in the vicinity of 40 pounds and looks like a monster hornpout. It has a head large as that of a St. Bernard dog, and has a mouth expansion of more than 14 inches. The reporter was put wise to the name of the fish, but was sworn to secrecy because of the fact that Mr. Gonzales has offered the identification prize. But here's a tip for the fellow who wants to guess. On the top of the mouth, outside, there are two horns, similar to those on the hornpout, but much larger, and it is by means of these quill-like horns that this monster, and his kind procure food without exertion. They actually bait those horns and, when baited, they protrude and constitute a decoy for smaller and more innocent fish that grab at the bait only to land immediately in the voracious mouth of this most extraordinary fish.

Now, with the few hints that we have dropped about baited horns, etc., some local fishologist surely ought to be able to earn that fishing rod.

Mr. Gonzales feels that some member of the Lowell Fish and Game association may be able to annex the rod. "Come on Messrs. Harris, Holt, Dearborn and others, and try your luck," exhorts Harry, and name this fish, with the understanding, of course, that you have not consulted a fishological encyclopedia or dictionary."

TOMORROW AFTERNOON

PLEDGED TO THE HIGHEST BONA FIDE BIDDER
The Vandenberg Residence
No 386 Andover Street—Lowell

On Thursday the twenty-fourth day of July nineteen hundred and nineteen beginning very promptly at five o'clock in the afternoon upon the premises herewith described regardless of any condition of the weather I shall sell to whomsoever will bid the most and comply with the Terms and Conditions of Sale the very genteel and dignified residential property between the residences of Mrs. Fremantle Bellard Sheard and Mr. Ernest G. Dumas and opposite the broad expanse of General Benjamin F. Butler estate and extending from Andover street through to East Merrimack street. The premises have long been known as one of the finest homes in the Belvidere section of the city of Lowell—possessing exceptional quality and character and luxury of finish. The view from the premises up and down the Merrimack river and over the manufacturing sections of Lowell and across the country to the distances beyond—and at times even to the foothills of the White Mountains—is one long to look at and one which never tires. The buildings are in the centre of 25700 sq. ft. of land area—the grounds being landscaped engineered and decorated with shade trees and hedges and shrubbery and laid down to lawn and paths and driveway. The house has slated roof, red sandstone foundation, black walnut finish throughout although many times now shown in white paint, handsome walls and ceilings, parquet and polished floors, six open fireplaces, a secretly placed combination lock large fireproof safe, and shades in all windows; there are four corner rooms on each of its three floors—the first floor having in addition to these four corner rooms a broad hall, a roomy vestibule with the floor, a broad piazza with red tile floor—recently laid at a cost of one thousand dollars, a rear vine-covered balcony, a large kitchen—linoleum covered floor, built in ice chest and refrigerator—marble lined, and an abundance of closets; the second floor having in addition to the four corner rooms (master's chambers) a broad centre hall or music room, a rear hall and stairway, a smaller corner room, sewing room, two bath rooms, linen closet and unusual closet conveniences; the third floor having in addition to the four corner rooms a large square hall in centre, a billiard room, den, large cedar closet, trunk and storeroom, a bath room and much closet room; the basement has a roomy and bright and light laundry—with soapstone tubs and bricked-in copper boiler and Arlington improved range, a bright and light workshop, tool room, toilet room, preserve closet, vegetable cellar, flower cellar, and bricked-in coal bin; the house is heated throughout by a Scannell & Wholey boiler plant—equal to any conditions of the weather, and all water is heated by fluid automatic water heater. The stable building is in strict keeping with the residence—this is true from the standpoint of architecture and interior finish and arrangement; the driveway from Andover street leads direct to the very spacious coach house (garage) floor—leading from which is a roomy wash stand and harness or supply room—with attached storage room, and toilet room, and coachman's office, the runway from the coach house (garage) door to the stable beneath is gradual and at an easy grade; the stable floor beneath the coach house (garage) floor is also very spacious and roomy, is now set off for five horses, has a wide paved centre door, men's lounging room, and driveway entrance direct from East Merrimack street; the basement floor, beneath the stable floor is also very spacious and roomy and high posted and light, has paved floor, the runway from stable door to the basement beneath is gradual and at an easy grade, and there is a driveway entrance direct from East Merrimack street. Adjoining the stable building on the east side is the coachman's suite (collage) comprising four rooms and two halls and bath room and toilet room and pantry and open fireplace—numbered 571 East Merrimack street; the stable and coachman's cottage have Georgia pine finish throughout and are thoroughly heated throughout by an Ingalls & Kenrick steam plant. The land has a total area of 25700 sq. ft. with a frontage of one hundred feet on Andover street and a frontage slightly more than one hundred feet on East Merrimack street—and is two hundred and fifty feet between streets. The purchaser of the estate must deposit with or satisfactorily secure to the auctioneers one thousand dollars, just the moment the property is struck off. The house will be open for exhibition the two days next preceding the day of sale—or before this date by appointment made with the office of the auctioneer.

A sweet tooth is all right in its place. Many men ascribe their present happy marital state to their ability in years gone by to choose for Milady the kind of hot buns and other sweets which most appeal to her, but John H. Callahan—who gives his home as Cambridge—will probably never evince the slightest interest in candy in future. John was found guilty of stealing several boxes of chocolates from the Boston and Maine railroad at today's session of police court, and drew down a sentence of six months in the house of correction.

According to the testimony given by Patrolman John Lynch, he saw Callahan and another young man attempting to steal a ride to the Hub via the "blind baggage" route one evening recently. Callahan was carrying a bundle, and when approached by the officer both young men tried to make a quick exit. The unknown young man got away but Callahan dove under an outward bound Boston train at the Middlesex street station, and after a brief scuffle the policeman emerged with his prisoner—also the bundle, which was found to contain several boxes of choice confectionery.

Several railroad men testified that the candy had been stolen from a freight train which had stopped in the yards for a few moments shortly before Callahan was arrested, and although Callahan strenuously denied all knowledge of the affair, Judge Fisher was of the opinion that the young man and his pal had been responsible for the disappearance of the candy and ordered him sentenced as aforesaid.

The Cape to Cairo railway in Africa when completed will be 7074 miles in length, the longest single line of railway in the world.
